FIVE PERSONS AT BEDSIDE OF DYING WOMAN SHOT BY NEGRO

Paroled Convict Shoots Down Sam Haston, Brother of Secretary of State for Tennessee, His Mother, a Sister and Two Others and Then Makes His Escape—Bloodhounds Aid Posse in Hunting Gunman

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 8.—Sam Haston, brother of Ernest Haston, secretary of state, his mother, Mrs. Geo. Haston, Sr., Mrs. B. D. Shapero, a sister, Tullie Drogden, a boy living on the Haston place, and a fifth man were shot at the family home by Lewis Douglas, negro paroled convict, who escaped after the shooting and is being sought by a posse.

It is reported members of the family were sitting up with Mrs. Sam Haston, who was seriously ill and who died this morning.

The report reached Nashville that Mrs. George Haston could not live, and that Sam Haston had both legs broken by the negro's shot.

Douglas, the negro, was sent to prison in 1916 to serve from five to 21 years for arson.

MAYOR WILL ATTEND COMMITTEE MEETING THIS EVENING

Will Discuss Figures Referrrd to Committee by Council—Mayor Says He Wants to Hear Whatever Recommendations Council Has to Offer—City Hall News

The city council committee on finance will meet in the mayor's reception room this evening for the purpose of considering the various items of the budget, which have been referred to the committee by the council and Mayor John J. Donovan, who has been invited to be present, will attend.

There are about twelve items that have been referred to the committee by the council, and among them are some in which the council has recommended larger appropriations than have been approved by the budget and audit commission and the mayor. The meeting will be in the form of a conference and the mayor will be requested to approve the figures as recommended by the council. Every item will be gone over carefully and the committee will submit its reasons for asking the mayor's approval.

In a statement given to the press this morning Mayor Donovan said he will attend this evening's meeting. "I have stated right along," he said, "that if the city council had any recommendations to make after an analysis of the budget, that I would gladly meet with them."

Reject Treaty But Continue Negotiations

LONDON, March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister Bonar Law stated in the house of commons today that an official statement from the Turkish authorities at Angora, relayed by the British high commissioner at Constantinople, was to the effect that the draft treaty presented at Dausanne was considered unsatisfactory, but that the Grand National Assembly, by a great majority, had given authority to continue the peace negotiations.

"AGREE TO DISAGREE" RECEIVERS APPOINTED

Anita Stewart, Movie Star and Her Husband, Rudolph Cameron, to Live Apart

LOS ANGELES, March 8.—Anita Stewart, motion picture actress, and her husband, Rudolph Cameron, director, have "agreed to disagree" for a little while and live apart, Miss Stewart said, according to a story the Los Angeles Times published today.

"I am not contemplating a divorce," she added, "and I am sure my husband isn't. There is no co-responder—at least I know of none. If I ever do get a divorce, I shall make all the details public for motion picture patrons are entitled to know the truth about their entertainers."

EIGHTEEN COMPANIES OF COAST ARTILLERY RESERVES TO BE RECRUITED AT ONCE

Concrete plans for the defence of New England have been formulated and were definitely announced in skeletonized form yesterday at an important military conference held in Boston to discuss matters covering numerous New England and national defence programs of import at the present time.

The meeting was a timely one, for distinguished statesmen and military leaders the country over are working in full co-operation to arrange an adequate program of defence to protect American shores from possible future attack and capture in world wars that may come.

This forward step in new national defense programs was taken yesterday at the Boston conference, at which Maj. E. J. Toohy, C.A.C., now located in this city, and other army officers from the First Corps area, were present.

It was announced that 18 companies of coast artillery, organized reserve, will be formed at once from Middlesex, Essex, Worcester, Suffolk and Norfolk counties, with Lowell as headquarters.

Maj. Toohy, appointed executive officer for this organization, will have charge of the organization preliminary and also attend to the formation of the units in order. The organized reserves will be recruited in the Lowell district will constitute one full regiment and two battalions. The new organization is to be created principally for the first defense of Boston harbor territories, and those who join the coast artillery companies will receive their training at the different harbor forts. The latter are now well equipped for receiving and handling large numbers of men and affording them the best possible instruction in the handling of the big coast guard gunnery equipments.

"At yesterday's conference in Boston, Brig.-Gen. Mark L. Hersey, commanding officer of the First Coast Artillery district, was present and addressed those gathered for the discussion of first measures to protect Boston and New England in case of attack by foreign foes. Other officers also present yesterday discussed matters pertaining to the organized reserves. A number are today on regular duty," enlisting former service men and others especially qualified to participate in this great program for national defence.

Mlle. Lenglen Defeats Miss Cadle

MONTONE, March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen defeated Miss Cadle of England in the women's singles of the Montone lawn tennis tournament today, 6-0, 6-1. Miss Cadle is the player who on Tuesday eliminated Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, the American champion. Mrs. Mallory and Miss Blake, the only all-American pair in the women's doubles, defeated Lady Denman and Mrs. Sanderson of England, 6-2, 6-1, reaching the fourth round. This was the first winning match in which Mrs. Mallory has figured at Montone.

Three Missing After Fire; Ruins Searched

PITTSBURGH, March 8.—Police and firemen today were searching the ruins of the Shelton hall building for the bodies of three persons reported missing after the fire last night in which one man was known to have been killed. The fire was brought under control early this morning, after it had burned for five hours. The damage was estimated at $160,000.

Irish Republican Leader Captured

BEIFAST, March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Con Maione, republican deputy chief of staff, has been captured in Glen Alderow. Maione was the successor of Liam Deasy, whose peace proposals, made while a prisoner of the national army were rejected by the republican leaders last month.

Collect $300,000,000 in Back Taxes

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Collection of back taxes by the treasury today passed the $300,000,000 mark. Any further collections will help to reduce present estimates of the budget deficit. Officials believe the average monthly receipts from back taxes during the remainder of the fiscal year may exceed $30,000,000.

Shipping Clerk in Boston Store Arrested

BOSTON, March 8.—Mitchell Shulkin, shipping clerk in a woman's apparel store here, was arrested today charged with larceny of $2000 from the store. The police said he had confessed to having taken money on one occasion to the amount of more than $200. He pleaded not guilty in the municipal court and was held in $2000 for a hearing on March 22.

BOGDONOFF ARSON CASE RESUMED IN SUPERIOR COURT TODAY

Fire Chief Saunders Testifies as to Gas Odors—Owner of Shoe Shine Shop Tells of Poor Gas Service on Night of Fire—Two Pieces of Gas Pipe Introduced as Exhibits—Several Witnesses Heard

Testimony today in the case against the Bogdonoff brothers, charging burning with intent to defraud in relation to the fire that occurred in stores of the Depot Cash Market at 12 and 370-372 Bridge street on the night of Nov. 12, 1922, continued largely to the more disastrous of the two fires, that in the Mercurian square store in the building owned by Edwin J. Dreyfus.

The government, continuing its attempt to add significance to the fact that a broken gas pipe was found near a meter in the basement of the downtown store, introduced two pieces of this pipe as exhibits, which were marked and admitted as evidence.

Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department testified as to gas odors in the cellar.

The owner of a shoe shine shop at the corner of Bridge and Pango streets testified to poor gas service. In his shop on the night of the fire and a foreman of the gas company said the meter near which the broken pipes were found was the one which supplies gas to this shop.

The defense contended that the fire was fiercest in the front of the basement, where this meter was located and when the pipes were blown to the jury, Albert S. Howard, counsel for the Bogdonoffs, asked the jurors to notice particularly whether the ends of the pipes showed any signs of melted solder.

Abel R. Campbell, real estate and insurance man, said he had placed all the insurance carried by the Bogdonoffs on the stock and fixtures on both stores in a declared he did not believe the total amount was $24,000. At the time of the fire, merchandise and fixtures for both stores were insured for a total sum of $24,000.

When the trial resumed this morning District Attorney Arthur J. Reading called Daniel H. Crowley, assistant district chief of the fire department, to the witness stand.

Missed train connecting in Boston delayed Judge Sik for nearly an hour and the court did not convene until 10:30 o'clock.

Chief Crowley, describing his actions at the fire, said he saw the fire break out in the front of the bridge street store and he saw the fire break out in the front of the bridge street store and he saw the fire break out in the front of the bridge street store.

Mr. Howard inquired at length relative to another door leading from this alleyway into the boiler room and Chief Crowley said this door was open. He said as far as he knew there were no passageways between the boiler room and the main cellar beneath the store.

Mr. Howard asked witness if he would be surprised to learn there are two doors from the boiler room that led to the store basement and he replied he would be surprised.

Capt. Edward J. P. Cunningham, of the fire department testified he was off duty on the night of the fire and was standing in front of Green's drug store when it was discovered. He ran to the rear of the building, secured an axe and broke in the door in the alleyway. He did not enter the building at any time during the fire.

The next witness called was John Dagounas, who conducts a shoe shine shop at Bridge and Pango streets. He said he used gas in connection with his business of shoe shining. On the night of the fire, at about 7:10 o'clock, he said a man came into the store and asked to have a shoe cleaned. He turned on the gas under the boiler to give steam, but there was not enough gas available to allow him to operate his cleaning apparatus. He testified further that gas lights in the store were very dim and were not burning strong enough to give adequate light. He said he was unable to use either the lights or boiler after the time of the fire.

Cross-examined by Mr. Howard, the witness said the gas did not go out, but was very low. He said his shop was not badly damaged as result of the fire and he did not carry any fire insurance.

William Pappas, who accepted the store with Dagounas, was the next witness. He said gas lights in the store were very low at 7:10 o'clock on the night of the fire. Before that time the lights were bright. When the gas lights became dim, electric lights were turned on.

Chief Edward F. Saunders was recalled by the district attorney. He said when he reached the fire at No. 12 Bridge street, smoke was coming from basement windows in the front of the building.

He testified that he went into the basement of the store as soon as it was possible and smelled gas. He said one gas meter was investigated after the fire and it was found that two pieces of pipe were disconnected. The pipe in question was produced and shown to the jury and marked as exhibits. One was a part of the pipe giving gas service to the building and the other was part of the lead to the meter. The chief estimated the two pieces were more than an inch apart.

Replying to questions by the district attorney, Chief Saunders said the meter had not been burned or the paint scorched.

Cross-examined by Mr. Howard, the chief said the fiercest fire apparently was in the front part of the basement.

"Is that where this meter in question was located?" asked Mr. Howard.

"Yes," replied the chief.

Shoe Shine Parlor Gas

The next witness called was Lawrence J. Fawcett, foreman for the Lowell Gas Light Co. He testified that the shoe shine parlor was supplied with gas from a meter situated in the front of the Depot Cash Market basement.

Capt. David Petrie of the police department, was recalled to the witness stand.

He said he visited the store at No. 12 Bridge street the morning after the fire and it was his opinion that the fire had burned fiercest in the centre and rear of the cellar.

There were no signs of heavy fire in the front of the basement," he stated.

Testifying relative to the condition of pipes near a gas meter located in the front of the cellar, Capt. Petrie said the pieces of pipe submitted as exhibits were disconnected and were approximately 2 inches apart.

Mr. Fawcett was recalled and was asked by Mr. Howard if there was any other meter in the basement of the store which supplied gas to the shoe shine parlor and he replied there was not.

Patrolman Thomas H. Maroney was recalled, and said the door leading from the cellar in the rear of the Dreyfus building to the boiler room always is open to allow the fireman to enter.

Abel R. Campbell Testified

Abel R. Campbell, real estate and insurance man, testified to the purchase by the Bogdonoff brothers, through his office, in 1922, of the building at 370-372 Bridge street for $15,000. He told also of placing and carrying insurance in the total amount of $12,000, of which $4000 was on stock and $8000 on fixtures. Insurance to the amount of $12,000 also was carried by him on the stock and fixtures at 12 Bridge street and a 3-year policy for $10,000 on the building at 370-372 Bridge street and one for $5000 on the building, 5-11 West Third street.

One policy for $8000 was due to expire on Dec. 31, 1922, and when it was renewed it was for the amount of $10,000, for the reason that it was planned to transfer some of the stock at 370-372 Bridge street to 12 Bridge street.

Questioned by Mr. Howard, Mr. Campbell said he considered a fair market value of the Centralville property was $21,000 or $23,000. He submitted this contention by declaring he knew a person willing to pay $24,000 for the property in 1922.

"Do you, Mr. Campbell, feel that the amount of insurance carried was in any way excessive?" asked Mr. Howard.

"No, sir; I do not," replied the witness.

Asked by Mr. Howard concerning the reputations in regard to honesty of Philip, Jacob and Mark Bogdonoff, Mr. Campbell replied:

"Particularly good."

"Mr. Howard asked whether the Virginia Fire & Marine Insurance Co., which has written all policies, has cancelled any since the time of the fire, and Mr. Campbell replied it had not.

PALMER RESIDENCE FIRE HEARING BEFORE COUNCIL COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC SAFETY

The council committee on public safety, headed by James F. Hennessy, chairman, held a hearing in the mayor's reception room yesterday afternoon on charges preferred against the fire department by Jackson Palmer as a result of the destruction of his home in Fairmount street by fire on Sunday, Feb. 25. Mr. Palmer charges general incompetence on the part of the department, alleging that 10 minutes were allowed to elapse between the time of the arrival of the first piece of apparatus and the time the pump was pressed into service. Shortly before 3 o'clock the committee went to the fire and viewed the debris. Dana Palmer, brother of Jackson Palmer, was on the premises and he informed the committee that when the fire was discovered a telephone alarm was sent in and then he and his brother omitted three large fire chemical extinguishers on the fire. In the meantime a box alarm was sent in by Mr. Parker, a neighbor. "When the department reached the premises," said Mr. Palmer, "the rear end of the building was ablaze and a strong wind was fanning the fire." He said as far as he can recall it was at least five minutes before the connections were made on the hydrant in front of the house. The committee returned to city hall and at 4:20 o'clock the hearing was started. Jackson Palmer had been summoned to appear at the hearing, but failed to appear. Chief Saunders was the first witness. He said the first alarm came by telephone at 11:48 o'clock and two minutes later a bell alarm was sounded. "Five minutes later," said the chief, "I arrived on the premises and summoned more apparatus by telephone five minutes after reaching the fire. I saw at a glance that the house was doomed. Jackson Palmer was there and he told me to look out for the oil tank. I asked him how the fire started, and Mr. Palmer replied 'rate and matches.'" Questioned by Councilor Sadler, Chief Saunders said the first superior officer who reaches a fire takes charge until the chief or a district chief arrives, and the man in charge is allowed to discharge the apparatus. The chief said that the reason why he did not sound a second alarm was because of the narrowness of the street and he feared his men would be handicapped in their work by spectators. Condition of Hose. Councilor Moriarty questioned the chief as to the condition of the hose of the department and the reply was "fairly good." The chief added that on that day there was but one burst and that was remedied with a clamp. He stated that prior to last year, he was obliged to take whatever was given him. He said he has 2,000 feet of hose on hand that he refused to accept. "Last year," said the chief, "I bought 4,000 feet of hose and this year, 2,000 feet. Ordinarily I buy 2,000 feet a year. When Mr. Brown was commissioner of fire he had my men pump water in the streets and that took considerable wear out of the hose." Mr. Hennessy asked if the captain's used good judgment in not hitching the pump on the hydrant, and the chief replied in the affirmative, saying that if such action had been taken, the department today would be minus one pump. The chief said Mr. Palmer admitted breaking the windows and doors in the rear of the house and that helped to fan the flames. He further stated that even though there had been plenty of water, it would have been impossible for the department to save the house. "You did not have the volume of water," asked Councilor Sadler. "We have it but could not get it out of the pipes," replied the chief. Councilor Genest—"Who ordered the pump on?" Chief Saunders—"The captain, and we could not get water enough to reach the top of the building."

Castles Burns Called. Capt. J. E. Burns, of Engine 4, High street, was next called. He said he was summoned to the fire by telephone and when he reached the premises, the blaze was rolling at the second story. Questioned by Councilor Sadler, Chief Saunders said the first superior officer who reaches a fire takes charge until the chief or a district chief arrives, and the man in charge is allowed to discharge the apparatus. The chief said that the reason why he did not sound a second alarm was because of the narrowness of the street and he used in each line, there was no chance to save the house. The captain further stated that all of the hose he had stood 125 pounds pressure at the Hanson fire. We cannot tell if a hose is defective until it breaks out. Witness told of a couple of people who saw the blaze at a distance and who were ready to send in a telephone alarm when the bell alarm was sounded. Councilor Cameron asked how long it was before he was on the scene of the fire after the telephone alarm was received, and the captain replied "about three minutes."

Water Dept. Superintendent. Supt. Robert Gardner of the water department was called to explain water conditions on the day of the fire and he said there is some reason to be prevailed for the past 10 years. He said in order to get better water facilities in Belvidere, a new pump and new reservoir would be needed in Centralville. He said the people of Centralville are worse off than those of Belvidere, for there is but 10 pounds pressure in that district as against 37 pounds in Belvidere. He said a six-inch pipe on the hill should, without pressure, deliver 4000 gallons a minute. He said on the day of the fire the water in the reservoir measured 17 feet and 8 inches in the morning and 17 feet and 3 inches at 8 o'clock in the afternoon. He says the water never goes below 17 feet nor higher than 18 feet in the reservoir. Councilor Moriarty questioned Mr. Gardner relative to the installation of a smaller pump in the reservoir, and he replied that would be of no use, unless the department kept pumping water into it all the time. Councilor Sadler asked if a standard hydrant is being used by the department and Mr. Gardner replied in the affirmative, saying the hydrant with a steamer nozzle is installed as a rule, but sometimes the Boston hydrant is used. At 5:10 o'clock the committee adjourned, and the committee will submit its report to council at the meeting to be held Mar. 20.

BATTLE OF AFFIDAVITS IN PROSPECT

DETHAM, March 8.—A battle of affidavits in prospect as present attorney officials and attorneys for Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti made their last preparations today for the hearing tomorrow on supplementary motions for a new trial for the two men who were convicted of the murder of a paymaster and his guard in South Braintree. Meanwhile Sacco, in the jail here, began the 22nd day of his hunger strike after a good night's sleep and with little apparent change in his condition. The defense bases its motions for another trial on affidavits of witnesses that they testified falsely at the first trial and on the fact that the foreman of the jury, who has since died, had in the juryroom three cartridges similar to those taken from a gun found in Sacco's possession. In court affidavits filed by the state yesterday, two witnesses repudiated their affidavits for the defense and asserted that they had been obtained under pressure. The surviving jurors in affidavits for the state said that the cartridges were not placed in view in the jury room and were not mentioned during the jury's deliberations.

DOG SHOW POSTPONED

Because of weather conditions, the dog show of the Lowell Kennel club, scheduled for last night in Old Fells hall, Middlesex street, was postponed until March 14, next Wednesday.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH CONCERT

Under the direction of Edward Everett Adams, choirmaster, a very enjoyable "old folks" concert was given at the Calvary Baptist church last evening before one of the largest audiences that ever attended a social function in this church. The program consisted of various sacred and secular selections by a large chorus, with several individuals sustaining solos. Led by Mr. Adams and Mrs. Lillian Dodge Haskell, who incidentally gave several spirited readings, the members of the cast marched through the center aisle to the stage to the accompaniment of an old time marching air played by Frank B. Hill. The participants, dressed in Colonial and Revolutionary costumes, presented a very pretty appearance as they ascended the stage platform and took the places assigned them. The first number was a humorous sketch, entitled, "Sister Ruth," by Misses Harriet Hayes and Hazel Hayes. They were followed by Miss Helen Craig and Miss Alta Plouffe in "Come Thru the Rye," and Mrs. Bertha Alden Perry in "Love's Old Sweet Song." Other pleasing numbers were given by Miss Dorothea Beck, Mrs. Hazel Hardy Burns, Miss Florence Lillmo and Mr. Carl Stevenson. The concert was in charge of Miss Carrie Stewart, assisted by Sterling B. Crosby. The chorus was composed of the following: Mrs. Isabel Hanscom, Mrs. Earl Stevenson, Mrs. Ruth C. Phinney, Hazel H. Burns, Mrs. E. L. Lillmo, Mrs. Bessie Merrill, Mrs. Bortha A. Perry, Mrs. L. D. Haskell, Misses Harriet Hayes, Hazel King, Helen Craig, Alta Plouffe, Charlotte Haskell, Florence Lillmo, Dorothea Beck, Selma Hanscom, Edna Gordon, Harriett Hardy, Helena Hardy, Florence Chamberlain, Dorothy Rogers and Carrie Stewart; Messrs. Earl Stevenson, Paul Hodges, Edgar Barker, Winfield Alden and Carl W. Phinney. The complete program of the concert was as follows: "Auld Lang Syne," chorus; "Jerusalem My Glorious Home," chorus; "Sister Ruth," Harriet Hayes and Hazel King; "Come Thru the Rye," Dorothea Beck and chorus; reading, Mrs. Hazel King; "Come, Holy Spirit," chorus; "Coming Thru the Rye," Helen Craig and Alta Plouffe; "Goin' to the Sun," Mrs. Bortha A. Perry and chorus; "The Last Rose of Summer," Hazel Burns; "Hither Goes the Donkey," chorus; reading, Mrs. Haskell; "I'm Nine-two Today," Charlotte Haskell; "Takes Doodle," chorus; "Love's Old Sweet Song," Mrs. Bertha A. Perry and chorus; "Come My Beloved," chorus; "Old Folks at Home," Mr. Adams and chorus; "Jingle Bells," Florence Lillmo and chorus; "Home, Sweet Home," chorus; reading, Mrs. Haskell; "John Brown's Body," chorus; "Strike the Gymbol," chorus. An ice cream table, which did a thriving business during the evening, was in charge of Miss Blanche Hutchins, chairman; Mrs. John Charnley, Mrs. John Butcher and Mrs. Charles Thurston. The candy table committee consisted of Miss Eleanor Dowse, chairman; Mrs. Maude Rinker and Mrs. J. Oscar Phinney.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
The excellent bill at the B. F. Keith theatre this week is equipped with two headliners of unusual drawing power. "Oklahoma," Bob Albright, a singing cowboy, and "The Polo Game," a novel and satisfying act seen here in months, and Lydell & Macy, in character comedy, present a specially good character comedy. These two acts have only recently come east from New York city, where they were headliners at the Metropolitan and the Polo Game. The singing and dancing in "Oklahoma," which makes them exceedingly attractive. The wire act of Emma Raymond and the Brown Sisters, accompanied by a quartet of vocalists, and also something exceedingly pretty. Maxine & Bobby have a dog act which is unusual, and the other features of the bill are up to the mark.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE
"La La Lucille" is proving delightful entertainment at the Opera House this week, and the Luttering players are displaying their versatility in putting on regular theatre musical comedy. Pauline Mason, the dainty dancer, is making many friends here by her excellent work in this production, and Mary Ann, another dancer, is also a favorite in adding to her reputation. Lola Jenson is also giving a clever impression of a girl of the cabarets, and proves herself a clever comedienne. Next week, the players will present "The Girl from Home," a farce by Avery Hopwood, author of "Star Bells," "The Devil Virgin," "Seven Days," and other big hits, which has just closed a successful engagement in New York. "Why Men Love Women" is a new play of present day life and the players will have a chance to display their talents in this production. On the same bill, Richard Morgan and Malcolm Macleod will have leading roles, and Mary Ann Dunbar, Helen Kinney and Lola Jenson will appear to advantage.

SERGEI RACHMANINOFF COMING TOMORROW

Tomorrow evening Lowell will welcome Sergei Rachmaninoff, Russian pianist, conductor and composer, who returned to this country in 1918. The express and processes of the revolution compelled him to flee from Moscow. He was a student of the conservatory and deprived of all sources of income. Today he is one of the outstanding figures in the world of piano music and composition, with all the technical perfection of a master. His first arrival in America Mr. Rachmaninoff's last appearance, gave, a fine face and studiously quiet bearing, have left distinct impression upon the memories of concert-goers in the large cities of the east and middle west. As a composer, Mr. Rachmaninoff holds an eminent place among the middle generation of Russians. His (second) symphony has long been established in orchestral repertoires in the United States; his concertos for piano recur in symphony concerts; his songs are gaining more and more frequent place in the recitals of open-minded singers; his shorter piano-pieces are familiar to both amateur and professional fingers. His symphonic music bears continuous witness to his mastery of his medium, rich invention, grave and warm imagination, large and controlled power. His concertos for piano disclose the pianist's art as virtuoso and musician. The content of them speaks seriously for itself; the display is but decoration upon it. His songs, often singularly concentrated pieces, summon and sustain mood. His lighter music and piano pieces with technical and poetic beauty. Rarely does a musician of such various and applauded powers visit us.

"Tickets for his recital tomorrow evening are on sale at Chaffoux's." Not a little of the success of the star series, this season has been due to the genial and moral support of the long list of the names of the women who have sponsored the series. WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

"Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it. Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease. The kidneys are not in a healthy condition, retained in any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions. Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Klinger & Co., Birmingham, N. C. for a small bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

MAN OF 60 REGAINS VIGOR HE HAD AT 35

New Orleans Resident Tells of Wonderful Result from a Recent Scientific Discovery. D. W. Wood, 60, of New Orleans, La., declares he has virtually been made young again by the recently discovered compound, which he pronounced superior to "kidney treatment" and "kidney pills." He has regained his vigor and health, and is now a "man of 35." He writes: "I am apparently as supple as at 25. Mr. Wood says he would not take 1000 pills if the compound has done for him. The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet the most powerful and effective known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerve centers and certain blood vessels, it often produces amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours. In nationwide tests, it has won the praises of thousands who suffer from nerve weakness, premature aging and lack of vigor. Physicians say it gives speedy satisfaction in cases that defy other treatments. Entirely harmless, it is a real 'fountain of youth.' Knowing that this news may seem 'too good to be true,' the distributors invite any person needing the compound to take a 30-day double-strength treatment, enough for ordinary cases, with the understanding that if it does nothing if it fails. If you wish to try this guaranteed invigorator, write in plain English to the Melton Laboratories, 45 Massachusetts street, Kansas City, Mo. If you prefer, you may enclose a check or simply send your name, without cost, and the compound will be sent by mail or delivery. In either case, if you report after one week that the compound has done for you, your satisfaction is fully guaranteed. No money need be sent about accepting it.—Adv.

Robert Agnew, juvenile lead in "Clarence," has signed a long-term contract with Paramount.

"Six Days," based on Elinor Glyn's story, will be directed by Charles Brabin.

Conrad Nagel will play opposite Hope Hampton in the screen version of "Lawful Larceny."

Edwin Carewe is in Zion national park, Uta, to direct scenes of the film version of "The Girl of the Golden West." Members of the cast with him are J. Warren Kerrigan, Russell Simpson, Sylvia Bremer, Wilfred Lucas, Hector Sarno, Nelson McDowell, Joseph Hamilton, Cecil Holland and Minnie Prevost.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PREVENTION OF COLDS

Feeling that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, the board of health has issued for the benefit of the residents of Lowell the following list of valuable suggestions for the prevention of cold.

First of all, keep away from the person who has a cold. Avoid the cougher and sneezer. Never kiss on the mouth.

Secondly, do not use a common towel or drinking cup. Do not borrow any one's handkerchief. Especially, the baby should have his own handkerchief.

Thirdly, keep your fingers away from your nose or mouth. Special precautions can be taken by avoiding dry, overheated rooms, which predispose to colds. Pans of water should be placed on the radiators to supply moisture.

Fresh air is the best of tonics, and exercise goes a long way toward keeping you fit. Dress for the weather. Too many clothes are as bad as not enough.

Be careful of your food. Contrary to the usual belief, it is dangerous to stuff a cold. People who overeat are more apt to catch cold. Daily bowel movements, as suggested by good health, they help to ward off cold. In young children the removal of adenoids will often do a great deal towards ridding the child of cold.

The number of new cases of measles in this city is on the decrease, as only nine cases were reported at the board of health office since yesterday noon. This brings the total of cases reported since last Saturday noon to 75.

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, March 8.—The first film made under the supervision of the Soviet government of Russia will arrive in America soon, if it is not already here.

The photoplay is based on Tolstoy's "Folkushka," and several of the leading players of the Moscow Art theatre, now playing in New York, appear in it. Ivan Moskvine, whom I recently saw in "Tzar Fyodor Ivanovitch," has the little role in the photoplay.

Moskvine, like all of the Moscow Art players, is a master of pantomime. His acting seems always spontaneous and without artificial restraint. Judging by his stage appearance, he should prove unusually effective on the screen.

The Soviet government espouses its cause in the film. This propaganda, many believe, will bar the film from the American screen. Certainly the screen is not the place for propaganda, but there is no denying that American film producers have used it to that end.

Then why discriminate because the were unheated and poorly lighted. Some propaganda in this film happens to be for the Soviet cause?

All of the art are being more or less misused for propaganda of various sorts. A hullabaloo is being raised in New York over the exhibition of a painting that uses the miracle of Jesus turning water into wine as propaganda against the dry cause.

Peter B. Kyne, who recently turned against film producers, employed the screen for anti-Japanese propaganda in "The Pride of Palomar." Many films have been used to the interest of nationally advertised products. In those cases, of course, the film producers were paid a pretty price.

The Russian film shows the condition of the serfs under the ruling class of 100 years ago. Many of the scenes were taken in the neighborhood of Pokrovskoe and natives were used in many scenes. Most of the action is exterior and thus finds authentic background.

The interiors were taken during Russia's most distressing period. Studios then why discriminate because the were unheated and poorly lighted. Some

Two Days More and Our Bargain Feast Will Be Over

About 10 o'clock Saturday night we close our doors at 99-103 Gorham St., never to open them again for business. To a certain extent we are sorry to leave this old place that has seen over fifteen years of our life. We had worthy neighbors, good friends and fine customers all around us, but we had to seek larger quarters.

At our new store, 90 Middlesex Street—the old Allan Fraser's store—we will have the much needed room to properly take care of our trade.

To wind up our business on Gorham Street, we have made a special effort to give the people of Lowell special bargains for the next two days, and here are a few examples:—

BILL PASSED BY SENATE

First Victory for Measure

Exempting City Laborers
From Civil Service

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, March 8.—Advocates of exempting city and town laborers from civil service gained their first victory yesterday when the senate, by a vote of 19 to 11, passed to a third reading Senator Frank H. Putnam's bill. The Lowell senator's measure removes the present civil service restrictions in certain cities and towns, including Lowell, and allows appointments of laborers to be made without regard to civil service.

The bill was advanced to a third reading after a short debate in the upper body. Senator Edward J. Cox of Boston, who was one of the five dissenters from the committee on public service that voted to report the bill, urged the senate to overturn the committee's report. He declared that the passage of the bill would endanger the jobs of thousands of laborers who are not "in right" with the political

Release From Stomach Trouble
Is Due Entirely to Tanlac

"Tanlac is rapidly turning my years of suffering into good health, and my gratitude is unexpressed," says Mrs. Joseph Brosseau, 171 Third Street, Leominster, Mass.

"For sixteen years I suffered dreadfully with stomach trouble, and the misery and anxiety almost shattered my nerves. Many foods I never dared touch, and what little I did eat caused me awful pain, and I would almost suffocate with gas. I also had terrible headaches and dizzy spells, and was so frail and weak I was very dependent on my condition."

"The wonderful results my husband got from Tanlac caused me to try it, and I wish I had done so years ago. Three bottles have me eating ravenously without harm or worry. I am getting stronger every day, and if I keep improving at this rate until I finish the full treatment of six bottles, I'll feel just the way I have been wanting to feel."

DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO

CURB AUTO STEALING

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, March 8.—In a desperate attempt to curb automobile stealing, Colonel Alfred P. Foote, commissioner of public safety, has filed a bill and had it admitted by the joint committee on rules which would give state police officers the right to enter the premises of dealers in second hand automobiles.

State police officers are often compelled to chase auto thieves, Colonel Foote says, and unless they have the power to enter these second-hand garages and search for stolen cars many such automobiles won't be recovered. The bill would give state officers the same rights as local officers.

There is an emergency preamble attached to it which would allow it to go into effect at once.

It reads as follows:

"Whereas, it is important and for the interest of the commonwealth that prompt action should be taken to prevent the theft of motor vehicles, therefore this act is declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate protection of the public:

"Section 1. Section sixty-six of chapter one hundred and thirty of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting at the beginning thereof the words: 'The commissioner of public safety, so as to read as follows:

"Section 66. The commissioner of public safety, the police commissioner in Boston and of police in any other city, the selectmen of a town or any public officer authorized by them, or an agent or inspector of the registrar may at any time enter upon any premises used by any person licensed under section fifty-nine for the purpose of carrying on his licensed business, and certain how he conducts the same, and examine all second hand motor vehicles or parts thereof kept or stored in or upon the premises, and all books, papers and inventories relating thereto."

power in their respective cities and towns.

Senator Putnam declared that the passage of the bill would mean improved conditions. He reminded the senate that the committee on public service, of which he is chairman, heard all of the arguments against the bill, and then voted in favor of it. On a standing vote it was carried in favor of the bill and 19 against it. The final vote was taken on a roll call.

The roll call was as follows:

In favor: Senators Charles M. Austin, George F. Clarke, Eben S. Draper, John H. Gibbs, John W. Higgins, Charles H. Hartshorn, William J. Look, John F. Shea, Walter E. McLane, Dexter A. Snow, John A. Stoddard, Warren E. Tarbell, Albert P. Wadsworth, Wellington Wells and William S. Youngman.

Another fight will be staged in the senate when the bill comes up for passage. It is expected, however, that unless the senators have a sudden change of heart, the bill will be passed by them.

Then it will go over to the house, and the members of the body are bitterly opposed to it, are actively organizing to prevent its adoption.

PARISH SUPPER AT

ELIOT UNION CHURCH

More than 100 members of the Eliot Union church attended the monthly parish supper which was served last night in the church vestry by a committee of women of the parish headed by Mrs. Chester Arnold. John W. Stoddard and Mrs. Ralph Runnels. Following the supper, the meeting was adjourned to the assembly hall, where Rev. William B. Tuttle, D.D., the pastor, gave a very interesting talk on "Oregon as its Settlement."

Dr. Tuttle's lecture hinged on the story of Marcus Whitman, and to him he gave most of the credit for getting the Oregon Territory for the United States. Whitman studied for the ministry and then took up the study of medicine, turning from St. Paul, Minn., where he had studied, to Portland, where he had decided that the ministry was his vocation and offered himself as a missionary. Dr. Tuttle introduced, as the heroine of the story, one Narcissa Prentiss, of Hattsburg, who had, at the age of 21, been offered in marriage to a missionary. The two were destined to die together, but before going they met and were married.

THERE'S AN END TO ALL THINGS

special conference he saving the president to his side of the question and Oregon was kept for the United States. After an absence of 11 months, Whitman returned to his wife, and it was not long before the trail across the divide was well worn by soldiers seeking new homes in the territory. The Indians had been incited against Whitman by the British and on one of his trips to aid an Indian squaw he was murdered. Following his death a massacre of the white settlers of the country was planned, and his family had fled, his work had been accomplished, and Oregon Territory was part of the states settled by Americans.

Previous to the lecture, Mrs. Leland Balch entertained with a group of songs.

PAY TAX EARLY AND
AVOID THE RUSH

Only six more days for filing of federal income tax returns. The office of the collector in room 4 at the postoffice is open from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. and four men are there to help all out and receive these returns.

The deputy collector stated today that, figuring on the same number of returns this year as made last year, there are still between three and four thousand residents of Lowell and vicinity who have not as yet filed their tax return.

Last night, between the hours of seven and nine, there were but three returns filed, and about ten more appeared at the office to get tax blanks.

One important item, that may not be understood by some of the smaller employers of labor, is Rule 27. This rule states "that every individual making payments of salaries, rents, interest or commissions of stock or other interest in the past year, is required to make a true and accurate return to the commissioner of internal revenue, showing amount paid and name and address of the recipient." Forms for the filing of this information may be had at the collector's office in the postoffice.

If all who have to file a return put it off until Saturday or later, they will be forced to line up in the hall of the postoffice and wait in line until their turn, whereas, if they take the opportunity offered today and tomorrow they will find that there will be no waiting in line, and the returns will be filed out and filed immediately.

WILL ELECT
CLASS OFFICERS

The election of officers for the evening high school graduating class will be held at the high school this evening. The following nominations have been received up to noon today and it is expected that more may be received before the time of election: For president, Robert Holmes and Ernest W. Turcotte; vice president, Winifred Ready and Gertrude Carpenter; secretary, Cecile Soucy, Irene Zapos and Josephine Adamowski; treasurer, Jas. P. Lochran.

There is considerable competition for each of the offices, except treasurer, and a great amount of campaigning of favorites has been done during the past few days by interested friends of the candidates.

CASES IN THE DISTRICT COURT

James L. Glynn, who was arrested yesterday morning following a raid at 671 Broadway, pleaded guilty in the district court today to illegal keeping and was fined $100. In imposing the fine, Judge Enright remarked that Glynn was only acting for the proprietors of the Broadway establishment, but that if he wished to take the blame, he would have to pay the penalty. Glynn paid the $100.

IRISH CLERGY PROPOSE PEACE

Message Sent to Republicans
Urges Immediate Cessation
of Hostilities

News Received Joyfully at
Cork—General Hope That
Peace Will Come

CORK, March 5. (By the Associated Press).—Peace proposals signed by many of the Catholic clergy and addressed to the leader of the southern republicans, Commandant Gen. Tom Barry, by Father Duggan of Cork were issued here last evening. The immediate cessation of hostilities is sought by halting the activities and operations of the Irish republican army and the dumping of arms and munitions by the republicans under charge of the battalion commanders, who will be responsible that they shall not be used against the Free State government and forces.

After a general election is held the arms and munitions are to be handed over to the elected government. The proposals are signed by Archbishop Hart of Cashel, Canon Cullen of Bandon, Canon Ryan of Thurles, Father O'Leary of Cork, Frank Daly, chairman of the Cork higher commissioners; Dr. O'Donovan and P. P. Dowdall of Cork.

General Barry has replied, undertaking to circulate the proposals for immediate consideration among the members of the executive council to the Irish republican army. The news has been received here joyfully and there is general hope that peace will be brought about.

12 Irish Prisoners Killed

DUBLIN, March 5.—(By the Associated Press). Twelve irregular prisoners were killed in County Kerry yesterday through the explosion of trigger mine. National troops, proceeding from Tralee to Killarney, encountered a stone barricade and brought prisoners from Tralee to remove the obstruction. Concealed in the barricade was a trigger mine which exploded, killing eight of the prisoners and wounding two national army officers and soldiers. Another barricade was found on a bridge and prisoners were taken there to remove it. Here there was another trigger mine which also exploded, killing four prisoners.

GLASS BLOWERS AT THE A. G. POLLARD STORE

The Venetian style of free-hand glass blowing is almost a lost art, only a dozen or so workmen living in this country creating wares by blowing and spinning glass today. During the present week two of these men are at A. G. Pollard's store, performing some of their work, and the exhibition is open to all who care to see the really wonderful artists at work. The exhibition is in the rugs and drapery department on the fourth floor and will be here this week only.

In manufacturing glass on a large scale, a clay pot is used, the pot standing about four feet high and holding a ton of glass. After the pot is filled with sand, potash and lead, it is put into a large furnace and the heat applied for 24 hours at 3700 degrees. It is then ready for the blowers, who use an iron pipe from five to seven feet in length. The process of blowing has not changed during all the years. In Venice a cabinet was recently dug up with the figures of two glass blowers making a vase in the same method still employed today by expert workmen.

The date of the actual discovery of glass will probably never be found, but it is, of course, one of the oldest arts in the world. Glass is really known as a "manufactured metal," being a combination of earth substances. It is also about the most wonderful metal known, as it is a non-conductor of electricity and is the most elastic of all metals. Those who delve into ancient histories of the world, find curious reports of the making of glass in previous centuries, even as far back as the days of Pharaoh, the historian.

When the Mohammedans drove the Christians from Constantinople when the latter was the seat of the Roman government, the glass was really known as a "manufactured metal," being a combination of earth substances. It is also about the most wonderful metal known, as it is a non-conductor of electricity and is the most elastic of all metals. Those who delve into ancient histories of the world, find curious reports of the making of glass in previous centuries, even as far back as the days of Pharaoh, the historian.

The basis of all glass is sand. Potash must be added, of course, as these two things together are absolutely necessary to create vitrification or fusion, but these alone will not produce glass. For making best quality, such as is used for cut glass, lead is added in equal weight to the sand and potash. Window glass is made by putting in lime in place of lead, and for glass bottles and cheap tumblers, soda is used in place of lead.

Everyone is invited to visit the Pollard store this week and see the glass-blowing exhibition in charge of experts who will gladly explain the details of the wonderful trade and give demonstrations of this ancient art with many interesting features.

OWEN VALE'S NEMESIS

Leads Harvard Hockey Forces to Big Three Championship in Great Game

NEW HAVEN, March 6.—The same remarkable athlete, George Owen, Jr., who last fall turned back the Blue football team in the bowl, was the same remarkable athlete last night when leading the Harvard hockey forces against Yale in the third and rubber game of their annual series.

Owen drove home a shot, after receiving a pass from his former school pal, Ted Crosby, that whizzed by goaltender Jenkins and gave the Cambridge men another victory and incidentally the championship of the so-called big three of which Princeton is the other member.

In the first game, which was played in this city in January, it was Owen who won in an overtime session of 23 minutes and last night it was his stirring workmanship that gave the Cambridge sextet a 2 to 1 win after 12 minutes and 40 seconds of additional play.

RUMORS OF SALE OF RED SOX RENEWED

BOSTON, March 6.—Rumors of the impending sale of the Red Sox by President Harry Frazee were renewed today as a result of news reaching here from the Hot Springs, Ark., training camp, quoting Congressman James G. Sullivan of Boston as having said that Frazee was discussing such a project in New York with President Johnson of the American League. Congressman Sullivan was quoted as saying that the prospective purchasers were Bostonians.

The pitchers and catchers of the Red Sox squad, led by Jack Quinn, who is beginning his 23rd season in the box, turned their duty yesterday and it lasted but an hour, due to the Frank Chance's aversion to allowing his men to overdo their spring work.

From the St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp of the Braves, word came that Frank Gibson, Texan catcher, was the only known holdout. He has refused to sign the contract sent him. Fred Mitchell put his batterymen through two workouts.

OXFORD TO SEND TEAM FOR RELAY CARNIVAL

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—This year's relay carnival of the University of Pennsylvania is to be held next month on a decided international aspect with the annual world relay contest at Oxford university would be represented in at least two events, one on each day from the English side and one from the American side.

W. Orton, manager of the carnival, said that plans were being made to bring over every event of the two-mile American relay championship and that Melhins would compete in the two-mile international race.

Melhins holds the English college record for three miles, and is also the college cross-country champion. He will meet some of America's best distance runners in the international race, among them Melhins of Pennsylvania, two-mile indoor intercollegiate champion, Higgins of Colorado, outdoor intercollegiate, titleholder, at two miles, Thompson, Dartmouth, and Crawford and Gray of Yale. Cornell and several middle western institutions also will be represented in the event which was won last year and the year before by R. D. Rucker of Bates college.

OLD LOWELL BANK BOWLERS WIN

Yesterday afternoon, the Old Lowell bank bowlers, through the superb skill of Dan Hatt, won a dual match from the representatives of the Middlesex Trust company by a margin of 26 pins, the final score being 1056 to 1030.

The match was an exciting one, and spurred on by the thought that the loser was to furnish the supper for the winners, the rival pin-topplers gave their best to achieve victory.

Until the final round, the Lowell men were leading by a small margin, which was wiped out when Hatt knocked 'em down in his last string for a total of 124, the best of the day, and then recorded his teammates to the supper table as guests of the losers.

Japs Real Menace in Tennis Game

By VINCENT RICHARDS

Of all the nations represented today in the game of lawn tennis and especially in the Davis cup competition, Japan is the one we fear most.

Although Australia won the right to challenge for the famous international trophy last year at Forest Hills it was its full strength that was unable to send its full strength to our shores at that time.

With Kumagata, Shimizu and Kashio here and ready for the tennis season to start next spring the Japanese invasion becomes a real menace for the United States during the coming tournament year.

To the famous and popular 'Itchy' Kumagata must go Japan's credit for the place it occupies in the tennis world. He might be termed the 'Father of Lawn Tennis' in the land of the cherry blossom at the present time.

'Itchy' came to America in 1916, possessing simply a backcourt game and nothing else, but he has mastered this type of game to its fullest extent and during his first season's play in this country he gained an enviable place in American lawn tennis circles.

His rise to fame in the tennis world has advanced steadily until now he is placed in the coveted 'first ten' by the ranking committee. It will be interesting to see Kumagata play after a two-year layoff.

Many tennis critics are of the opinion that Zenzo Shimizu is a better player in every sense of the word than his fellow countryman, Kumagata. To many of us thinking, Shimizu even at the present time is no better than the famous 'Itchy' in his prime. I do say that Shimizu has a much better chance for improvement than Kumagata ever had simply because his game is more orthodox.

Japan may not win the Davis cup next year, but that matter it may not even win the right to challenge for this great trophy, but the real menace in Japan tennis is not the next three years. They are taking more pains in the development of their younger players than any other country in the world today.

FASTEST MEN MAY MEET IN 100-YARD DASH

(By N.E.A. Service)

CHICAGO, March 7.—The world's "fastest humans" may meet this summer in the racing classic of the age.

Cyill Coaffee, Canadian track star, who, with Charlie Paddock, California wonderman, holds the world's 100-yard record, says he and Paddock have both been invited to meet in the 100-yard dash at the Chicago R. C. Furthermore, Coaffee is willing to go.

Besides being the century in a 9-8, Coaffee holds the Canadian record for the 220, low hurdles, with 25 4-5 as his mark. He is 26 years old and will make Chicago his home.

STASIAK MATCHED TO MEET KOLOKOFF

Lowell wrestling fans who saw Stanley Stasiak, the Polish Hercules, perform here a few weeks ago will be pleased to hear that plans are under way to bring him back to Lowell. He has been matched to meet George Kolokoff, the Bulgarian lion.

Stasiak is looked upon as one of the most promising heavyweights of the present crop and already he has appeared in virtually all of the big cities. He has met about all the grapplers of note and points to a victory over Wladko Zbyzsko, Charlie Cutler, Charlie Hanson, Ivan Michailoff and George Hill.

Stasiak is a native of Poland, and also Stan. Zbyzsko, former champion. The giant tote tips the beam at 241 pounds, stands 6 feet 11 inches, neck 21 inches, wrist 14, forearm 14, biceps 17 1/2, waist 37, chest, normal, 48, expanded 53, hips, calf 18, ankle 12, thigh 25 and reach 81.

His opponent is not quite as large as Stasiak, but is reported as being able to hold his own with any of the heavies in America. Recently he disposed of many of the western grapplers and claims to be the real champion of the United States.

Stasiak is big in every way. A giant in size and strength, a heart like that of a lion, with a fair knowledge of the wrestling game and improving daily, his claims must receive a serious consideration.

track coach of University of Illinois, incorporated the Illinois Italy Carnival, has grown into one of the most important events in the Middle West's athletic history.

More than 500 entries are in for the big indoor meet here Saturday. The pick of the track and field men of the Big Ten, Missouri Valley, Ohio State and other Middle Western conferences will compete. Smaller entries are in from other sections of the country.

Iowa won the one-mile relay last year by setting a new record. The team is expected to be again, as it is intact.

Ames is expected to be a contender for the two-mile relay.

Interest in the four-mile relay centers in Michigan, Chicago and Wisconsin. Illinois will be entered, but will hardly be a factor, as its great four-mile team of last year was lost by graduation, etc.

All the Ten and Missouri Valley universities will start men in the university races. Butler, Haskell, Carleton, Iowa, Lehigh, Knox, Lombard and Kansas are among the schools entered for the college events.

JON KIRKWOOD WINS HONORS

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 8.—Highest honors in the Florida East Coast open golf tournament went to Joe Kirkwood of Australia yesterday when he defeated Walter Hagen, British open champion, by a lead of three strokes.

The Australian took 233 strokes for his perfect 72 holes. Hagen, who was playing cut down the seven-stroke lead of Kirkwood at the beginning of the final round to three, was defeated by a lead of three strokes.

Jim Barnes of Belham Manor, N. Y., former open champion, finished third with a score of 239, and Leo Diegel of Friendship club, Washington, fourth, with a 241.

Stasiak is looked upon as one of the most promising heavyweights of the present crop and already he has appeared in virtually all of the big cities. He has met about all the grapplers of note and points to a victory over Wladko Zbyzsko, Charlie Cutler, Charlie Hanson, Ivan Michailoff and George Hill.

Stasiak is a native of Poland, and also Stan. Zbyzsko, former champion. The giant tote tips the beam at 241 pounds, stands 6 feet 11 inches, neck 21 inches, wrist 14, forearm 14, biceps 17 1/2, waist 37, chest, normal, 48, expanded 53, hips, calf 18, ankle 12, thigh 25 and reach 81.

His opponent is not quite as large as Stasiak, but is reported as being able to hold his own with any of the heavies in America. Recently he disposed of many of the western grapplers and claims to be the real champion of the United States.

Stasiak is big in every way. A giant in size and strength, a heart like that of a lion, with a fair knowledge of the wrestling game and improving daily, his claims must receive a serious consideration.

MOVE TO PREVENT FIRPO-BRENNAN BOUT

track coach of University of Illinois, incorporated the Illinois Italy Carnival, has grown into one of the most important events in the Middle West's athletic history.

More than 500 entries are in for the big indoor meet here Saturday. The pick of the track and field men of the Big Ten, Missouri Valley, Ohio State and other Middle Western conferences will compete. Smaller entries are in from other sections of the country.

Iowa won the one-mile relay last year by setting a new record. The team is expected to be again, as it is intact.

Ames is expected to be a contender for the two-mile relay.

Interest in the four-mile relay centers in Michigan, Chicago and Wisconsin. Illinois will be entered, but will hardly be a factor, as its great four-mile team of last year was lost by graduation, etc.

All the Ten and Missouri Valley universities will start men in the university races. Butler, Haskell, Carleton, Iowa, Lehigh, Knox, Lombard and Kansas are among the schools entered for the college events.

JON KIRKWOOD WINS HONORS

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 8.—Highest honors in the Florida East Coast open golf tournament went to Joe Kirkwood of Australia yesterday when he defeated Walter Hagen, British open champion, by a lead of three strokes.

The Australian took 233 strokes for his perfect 72 holes. Hagen, who was playing cut down the seven-stroke lead of Kirkwood at the beginning of the final round to three, was defeated by a lead of three strokes.

Jim Barnes of Belham Manor, N. Y., former open champion, finished third with a score of 239, and Leo Diegel of Friendship club, Washington, fourth, with a 241.

Price Set for Maintenance of American Troops on the Rhine

Believe Allies Will Not Dispute Justice of Claim—Conference in Progress

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Unofficial reports from Paris to the effect that the claim of the United States to payments, already made to Germany for maintenance of allied and American troops on the Rhine, have been challenged at the conference now in progress, are discounted in Washington official circles as founded on misinformation.

It was pointed out yesterday that in the correspondence which led to the conference on army costs with Assistant Secretary Wadsworth of the treasury representing the United States, the justice of the American claim was promptly admitted by the allied governments, which suggested the conference.

The purpose of the Paris discussion, it was added, was specifically to seek ways and means of providing for the refunding to the United States of Rhineland army costs in a way best calculated to meet the economic plight of the allied governments. Negotiations to that end are now proceeding and state department officials are advised by Mr. Wadsworth of what transpires at the conference. While no comment has been forthcoming here as to these negotiations, it was made clear that the general picture of the situation had changed in no way nor had the American claim been challenged.

The amount due the United States for the Rhine army costs is roughly one billion gold marks. How the payment of that sum is to be arranged by the allies is the question to be solved at Paris. It was said, as in asserting the claim to a full share in the payments the state department made it was not disposed to be a harsh creditor and was anxious to arrive at an understanding with the allies that would not complicate further their difficult economic problems.

EQUAL TREATMENT FOR JAPANESE IN U. S.

TOKIO, March 8.—At a meeting of Japanese interested in American trade, there being 100 present, a resolution was passed urging the government to endeavor when the American Japanese commercial treaty comes up for revision to secure equal treatment for Japanese in America. A committee was appointed to confer with the government officials. To this committee Mr. Tanaka, vice-minister of foreign affairs, explained that the American Japanese commercial treaty of July 1911 was made valid for 12 years, but with the stipulation that it should remain in force thereafter unless both or either signified six months in advance its intention to revoke or revise it. America has expressed no such desire and Japan has no intention of doing so.

U. S. NEGROES TO WORK IN RUHR MINES

NEW YORK, March 8.—Harry V. Dougherty, arriving on the Majestic yesterday, announced that he had perfected plans to transport between 2500 and 5000 American negro miners to the Ruhr to work coal mines seized by the French government.

"At least 500 non-union miners from the West Virginia coal fields will be sent out on the Orduna, which sails March 15," said Mr. Dougherty. "They will be followed by other shipments as fast as the men can be collected."

FRENCH PLAN TO OCCUPY FRANKFORT

BERLIN, March 7.—(By the Associated Press) The Munich correspondent of the Achtehufen Blatt in a despatch to his paper says he has learned from a visiting diplomat that the French intend to occupy Frankfort next week and that the occupation of Munich and other points in South Germany is to occur in about three weeks. Belgian troops, it was added, would also be used in occupying Munich.

MRS. AVIS BORDA DEAD

PROVIDENCE, R. I., March 8.—Mrs. Avis Borda, former wife of the late William Sprague, son of War Governor Sprague of Rhode Island, died yesterday at Narragansett pier. One son and a grandchild, who reside in Paris, survive her.

THE MYSTERIOUS 'MR. CARTER' IS A HARD GUESS

HERRIN RIOTS TRIAL

Witness Points to Willis as Man Who Issued Order to 'Kill Them All'

MARION, Ill., March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Hugh Willis, state board member of the Illinois Mine Workers was pointed out from the witness stand at the second Herrin riots trial yesterday as the man who gave an order to 'kill them all' after a mob had taken 48 non-union workers from the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Co. last June. The accusation was made by Robert Tracy, a survivor of the riots. At the time of the outbreak, Tracy testified, he was firing a locomotive at the mine and was a union man, being a member of the International Brotherhood of Steam Shovel Workers and Dockmen.

"I don't kill these men on the public highway where there are women and children," he quoted Willis as saying. "Take them over into the woods and don't let one get away, kill them all."

The witness also picked out Otis Clark among the six defendants charged with the murder of Anikon Mulkovitch, former soldier, veteran of the Somme and the Argonne, and one of the victims of the tragedy.

Tracy testified that he had seen Clark walk up to C. K. McDowell, crippled mine superintendent and another victim of the riot, curse him and beat him over the head with the butt and of a pistol. He said Clark told McDowell:

"I'm going to kill you and tear you into pieces for bail to catch fish with, you scab."

Tracy testified that the unarmed prisoners were taken into the woods after Willis had driven up in an automobile and said to 'kill them all.' He said one bullet struck him as he was being taken away by swimming a small lake.

On cross-examination Tracy said that after the firing on the mine had started he got a gun, went to the top of one of the mine buildings and returned the fire.

"What did you shoot at?" he was asked. "I shot at those who were firing at me."

"You shot to kill?" "Yes, sir."

U. S. NAVY TO SEEK POLAR CONQUEST

NEW YORK, March 8.—The United States navy purposes to undertake conquest of the North and South Poles by air.

This announcement was made by Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, in a speech broadcast from the Westinghouse radio station atop the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The daring feat, according to the rear admiral, will be undertaken by the ZR-1, a huge dirigible now being completed by the navy department at Lakehurst, N. J. She will go into commission, he told his widely scattered audience, about July 1.

"I've sent on trips over the principal cities of the country, trips across country, a trip around the world, and to the North and South Poles."

The rear admiral describes this airship as the country's and the navy's first rigid dirigible. The hangar in which she is being constructed, he says, is the largest in the world. A ship of similar type is being built for the government in Germany and is to be called the ZR-3.

"These two airships," declared Rear Admiral Moffett, "embrace the most important factors in design known to aeronautical science, and when in commission will be the forerunners of large fleets of such airships, which it is hoped can be built and commissioned in the near future."

For long distance, sustained flights, in carrying large loads, the rigid airship is in a class by itself. Its capacity to hover over a given spot, making for great accuracy in the dropping of bombs and in directing gunfire, establish it as an effective weapon for warfare far removed from the coast and from available bases.

"Filled with helium, we have a tremendous factor in naval warfare and an agency of vital importance to the national defense."

The rear admiral said continued experimentation in naval aviation is necessary, and "we must not only keep abreast of the developments in other navies but we must excel in performance the best effort of any foreign service."

Equipment Heads World. He said: "At present our naval air equipment leads the world, our sea planes are unsurpassed, our methods of communication are a step in advance of any other service, and we are making daily progress."

Part of the rear admiral's talk was devoted to pointing out the strategic advantage held by Great Britain through her possession of Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica and other island possessions.

"Given in the present state of development of aviation," he said, "the entire Atlantic coast, including the cities of Savannah, Charleston, Norfolk and New York, are within easy bombing distance of planes based at Bermuda."

Similarly, he said, the Panama canal is within easy bombing range of planes based at Jamaica and other British possessions. In event of war, Britain would undoubtedly have control of the sea with the present relative sea power of the two countries.

Similar conditions, the rear admiral said, apply to other foreign island possessions near our shores including those of France and Holland.

GUARD AGAINST 'FLU'

With Musterole

INFLUENZA, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning signs, get busy with good old Musterole. It is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion, which is what a cold really is, and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard, plaster without the blister. Just rub it on with your fingertips. First you will feel a warm tingling, then the stinging, itching, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

WORLD COURT PLAN

Sen. Hiram Johnson to Open Attack on Harding's Proposal at New York

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Permanent Court of International Justice seems certain to be one of the leading subjects of oratory during the coming summer, with President Harding taking the lead in his intended series of twenty speeches through the country.

Hiram Johnson of California, representing the irreconcilable school of thought, expects to tackle the subject in an address tonight before the Board of Trade in New York.

The California senator has not yet stated his case against the court, but has exhibited the same signs of animosity privately that he displayed toward the League of Nations. He announced recently that, barring a change of mind or tactics meanwhile, he will open warfare on the court in the New York address.

Ohio republicans are actively bucking up the president in keeping the court idea in the foreground, and they drew from Simon D. Fess (R., O.), who transferred from the house to the senate, next fall, the declaration that the court would have his full support with the reservations already specified insuring freedom from the League of Nations.

Idea Born in America. Mr. Fess, responding to a letter from W. P. Collier, an Ohio republican committeeman, pointed out that the idea of a world court for adjustment of international disputes is an American proposal, dating back to the first Hague conference in 1899, revived in 1907 and finally put into effect following the Russian-Japanese war.

The first case to be referred to the United States and Mexico, the Fess letter of reply said, adding:

"But the one outstanding dispute that brought the court into international recognition was that between the United States and Germany over the Venezuela dispute, when Germany ordered the seizure of German vessels, and the withdrawal of the war vessels."

"Germany's unsatisfactory answer was the cause of the president's ultimatum to withdraw within forty-eight hours. Germany then agreed to arbitrate and asked Roosevelt to act as mediator. The president requested the matter be submitted to regular order to the Hague court, already in session, the specific purpose of settling such disputes."

"The court as not only an American creation, but it was given vitality by the United States leading in the submission to it of cases of vast importance."

Nations Refused Mediation. "Unfortunately the disputants," in 1913 would not agree to the urgency of Earl Grey to submit the contention to the Hague court, hence the World War.

"The Versailles Treaty undertook to supplement this court by the International Court of Nations, which refused to join the league, which I think was a very wise decision because that would have been a surrender of our national sovereignty, can not be interpreted as a rejection of the idea of an international court to adjust by judicial process rather than by war disputes, between sovereign nations."

"That, as I have said, is an American idea. The only question that arises is whether adhering to the protocol calling the court involves the United States in any way in European problems. Many persons think that will, because the court is created by the same authority out of which the league is created."

Denies League is Involved. "If the step would in any way place us in the league I could not support it. But while I have not gone into the details in their entirety so far as I have studied it, the adherence will in fact commit us to the European League of Nations."

"I shall support the proposal as a statesman so far more preferable than to means to adjust international disputes far more preferable than to resort to war. If, as I believe, with the interest of the present, the recommendation of our former president, I shall urge its acceptance."

"It goes without saying that acceptance must be upon reservation that the United States shall have no voice in the free from European involvement. On such basis I would strongly commend favorable consideration of the proposal."

CUMMINGS PREDICTS U. S. RAIL OPERATION

ly remunerative to maintain them. He predicted it would become necessary for the government to operate 75,000 miles of railroads if the present shortage of cars continues, thereby making it impossible for the lines to handle enough business to pay essential operating expenses.

Many members of the farm bloc will demand withdrawal of the House farm-mining transportation act when congress reconvenes. Some of them, like Brookhart of Iowa, will go so far as to insist on its repeal.

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry
For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Ready and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It takes but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex. Add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and gives you a will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or cough, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction, or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Spoonful for a Penny Brings Quick Relief

Prove splendid laxative properties of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test. A SCIENTIFIC test has now proven what Dr. Caldwell of Monticello asserted many years ago, that constipation will slow you up fully 25 per cent. The test was made by Dr. Donaldson of Loma Linda up on four men in the prime of life who deliberately went without a bowel movement for four days. Within 48 hours their tongues were coated, their mouths and fowl breath, cankers in the mouth, no appetite, restless sleep, indigestion, headache, depression, nervousness, cramps. The blood pressure was up 25 per cent. It is just this that Dr. Caldwell has preached to his patients in private and to the public through the printed word ever since he began the practice of his specialty, diseases of the stomach and bowels, back in 1875.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grandparents can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-month old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Brinson, Ga. declares it is the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

Appeal to I. C. C. to Request N. E. Roads to Concentrate on Coal Movements

BOSTON, March 7.—A telegram urging that the Interstate Commerce Commission request New England railroads to concentrate on the movement of coal for domestic purposes, to New England for 72 hours after the cessation of today's storm, was sent today by B. Preston Clark, acting state emergency fuel administrator, to Frank R. Wadleigh, federal fuel distributor. He informed the distributor that because of the heavy snowfall coal transportation was "practically at a standstill" in that section.

HELD IN DEATH CASE

Jos. N. Murphy, "The Sage" Who Slipped From Position of Authority, Arrested

NEW YORK, March 7.—Joseph N. Murphy, 62, formerly of Pittsfield, Mass., and known as "The Sage," today was held on suspicion of homicide in the death of Joseph O'Rourke. The story of Murphy, as placed together by the police, is the story of a man who slipped from a position of authority in the business world to the post of porter in a saloon in Harlem. Murphy was graduated with honors from Nicolette college, in St. John's, N. E. detectives said. He became an expert in leather and was recognized as one of the leading wholesale salesmen in Canada and New England. Then investments went wrong, and he took to drink. Finally he was hired to teach up the Harlem. Murphy got his nickname, "The Sage," from customers to whom he used to expound philosophy. They recognized him as a man with a past. O'Rourke, a laborer, underwent a Monday to "kid the Sage." Murphy flung back the laborer's taunts with quips that turned the laugh. Then, detectives charge, O'Rourke struck the old man. Murphy, remembering the gibes, killed him years ago. Last night "The Sage" surrendered. Today he was held without bail for an examination March 14.

Yesterday Afternoon's Session

The afternoon session began with testimony by John C. O'Neil, a member of the fire department. He said he broke open the front door of the store on the night of the fire and went into the basement with a hand extinguisher. There was so much smoke in the cellar it was difficult to see. He first noticed fire on beams and ceiling and in the piles of paper near their top. He did not smell gas until his attention was called to it.

Daniel A. Wholey, a clerk in the Centralville store, next was called to the witness stand. He said he was in the store on the day of the fire and left with Manager Tobin at about 5:10 p. m. Prior to that time he had locked the bulkhead door in the cellar by snapping two bolts.

In reply to a question by Mr. Reading Mr. Wholey said as far as he knew no investigation of the fire had been instituted by the Bogdonoff brothers.

Speaking of the bundles of paper in the cellar, Mr. Wholey said the papers at bottom were not burned. In fact, were used in the market afterwards. He testified further that on the morning of the day when the fire occurred, he found that hinges on the bulkhead door were broken, as it caused by ripping.

On re-direct examination the witness said he knew of no signs of breaking entering the store and to his knowledge, no goods or provisions had been missed.

Mr. Wholey testified to finding a partially burned butcher brook on a day after the fire and said he had taken it to the First street dump, along with other refuse.

Asked whether he had reported finding the brook to anybody, witness replied he told Mr. Tobin.

Dist. Atty. Reading inquired why he had not so testified at the preliminary hearing and witness replied he had not been asked whether it was of sufficient importance to talk about, asked Mr. Reading.

"No sir," replied the witness. He was then excused.

Miss Julia A. Moynihan, 19 Hampshire street, the next witness. She said she was in the store on the day the fire occurred. She left her home at about 7:20 p. m. and walked toward the center of the city by way of West Sixth and Bridge streets.

Witness testified that she saw a Buick roadster standing in front of the store. The car was equipped, one was running and the engine was running. Light inside, burning, the cash register and inside the door saw one of the Bogdonoff brothers standing there.

"Which one was it?" asked the district attorney.

"Bogdonoff," replied Miss Moynihan.

Cross-examined by Mr. Howard, the witness said she knew the Bogdonoff brothers very well and added she was sure it was Jacob she saw in the store. After the fire, Bogdonoff admitted she did not trade at the Bogdonoff Cash Market because she did not like the deal with Jewish persons. She said she had stopped at the store later in the evening of the fire and had spoken with Mr. Tobin, the manager. Replying to Mr. Howard's question of what she said to Mr. Tobin, Miss Moynihan said:

"I asked him what was the idea of two fires in the stores at the same time."

John J. Walsh testified he was waiting for Miss Moynihan at the corner of Bridge and Pine streets on the evening of November 14 and that she arrived there at 8:50 o'clock. As he was standing at the corner he said he saw a Buick roadster pass at a rapid clip and he believed the car was owned and driven by one of the Bogdonoff brothers. Because of its rate of speed he was unable to say which of the three brothers was operating it.

James Tison, of 7 Osgood avenue, was the next witness called by the government. He said on the night in question he drove a Ford car down Depot Cash Market and stopped near the Depot Cash Market and that he saw a man step from a roadster standing at the curb. He did not know the man but knew he could recognize him.

The district attorney asked the three Bogdonoff brothers to stand and the witness pointed out Jacob as the man he had seen on that night.

Capt. David Petrie of the police department testified to investigations made by him, accompanied by Chief Sanders and State Officer Shumway, at the Centralville store the morning after the fire. He found bundles of rags and crumpled bits of paper between the piles of wrapping paper and paper bags and specimens were introduced and marked as exhibits.

He said he had not seen any burnt crumpled bits in the cellar and had made a thorough investigation.

Patrolman Thomas H. Maroney testified he was on duty in Merrimack square on the night of November 11 and discovered the fire at No. 12 Bridge street. He was standing near the patrol box at Bridge and Pine streets at 7:45 o'clock and he marked the time by the presence there of the 745 p. m. Highlands electric car. A Buick roadster stopped in front of him and stood while passengers got on the Highlands car. He said the driver of the machine was Mark Bogdonoff and that the latter waved his hand and spoke to him. He told of trying the doors of the store in the square earlier in the evening and found them securely locked. He did not see any one of the Bogdonoff boys in the store that evening.

Miss Martin, the last witness called in the afternoon, formerly was a bookkeeper in the Depot Cash Market store at No. 12 Bridge street. She testified she was standing in front of the store on the night of November 14 and heard an alarm sounded from Box 6 and saw apparatus going over into Centralville. This was about 7:50 o'clock. She stepped back against the building and noticed smoke coming from one of the cellar windows on the Bridge street side. She tried to enter the store, but it was locked. She then went to a nearby store and told the Bogdonoff residence in South Walker street. When she talked with was not introduced as testimony.

APPOINTMENT OF JUDGES

Tendency of Mass. Governors to Name Men in Recognition of Races Criticized

BOSTON, March 7.—William G. Thompson, speaking for the Boston Bar association at a legislative hearing today in opposition to a bill for the popular election of judges, criticized what he said was the tendency of Massachusetts governors in recent years to appoint judges in recognition of races, creeds and classes. "This he said, had brought odium upon the appointing system."

SAYS LAUSANNE TREATY IS UNACCEPTABLE

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 7.—Advices from Angora state that the Turkish National Assembly has decided that the Lausanne treaty is unacceptable being contrary to the national pact.

The government, however, was authorized by an important majority, to continue negotiations under certain conditions.

The first of these provides for the settlement within a limited period of the vital Mosul oil question.

The second condition is that all financial, economic and administrative questions be settled in conformity with the complete independence of the Turkish nation.

In the third place, the evacuation of all occupied territories immediately after the signature of peace is demanded.

In reaching its decision, the assembly declined all responsibility in case the powers insist upon acceptance of the spirit and letter of the treaty.

DOWNEY AND FINN FACE NEW INDICTMENT

BOSTON, March 7.—The Suffolk county grand jury today returned an additional indictment against Paul Downey and Robert L. Finn, for winning more than five dollars at a game.

The indictment is the result of evidence presented at the trial of Humphrey Lane and Finn, professional gamblers, who were found guilty of the felony of $127,000 from the Federal Trust Co., stolen by Downey, a clerk there, who pleaded guilty.

Downey in the new indictment are that on July 27, 1922, he won $500 at a dice game from Finn and a like amount at the New York gambler, whose name has not yet been made public. Finn is charged with having won $7000 from Downey at a dice game on the same day.

Downey testified during the trial that on July 27, 1922, he won $700 from Finn in bets on horse races, but lost the money soon after in a dice game.

The penalty provided by the statute for offenses of this nature is a fine of double the amount of the winnings alleged to have gone to Downey and Finn.

BODIES OF MISSING SHERIFFS FOUND

NEW ORLEANS, March 7.—The bodies of Wesley Crain and Willie Pierce, deputy sheriffs, missing since last Friday when they left Franklinton to make a moonshine still in the swamps between that place and Bogalusa, have been found, the Times-Picayune learned early today.

A message from Franklinton stated that one of the 12 men held in jail in connection with the disappearance of the other made a confession which resulted in finding the bodies.

Harding Indorses Wanamaker Memorial

PHILADELPHIA, March 7.—President Harding, in a letter to the committee in charge of the campaign to raise a fund by public subscription for the erection of a memorial to John Wanamaker, heartily endorsed the project, adding that Mr. Wanamaker was one of the "most useful Americans of his time."

SAYS DOROTHY GORDON IS GETTING BETTER

CAMBRIDGE, March 7.—Dorothy Gordon, the heiress, who is confined to the McLean hospital for the insane, is getting better, W. F. Jardine, of Winchester, her guardian, testified today at the hearing on the application of John D. Gardiner of Baldwin, I. I., her uncle, that he is appointed to administer her $100,000 estate in place of Jardine. "There is a gradual change in her for the better," was Jardine's reply to a question by counsel for Gardiner as to the reason for a recent change in her quarters.

Miss Gordon now has a private suite, consisting of parlor, chamber, reception hall and bath, her guardian said, and was showing improvement since the change was made from a single room.

FOUND STUPEFIED NEAR BODY OF HIS WIFE

HOLYOKE, March 7.—John Burke, found stupefied with liquor in a bedroom of his home last night, near the body of his wife, Mary, whose death Burke's body was covered with bruises, the police say, giving evidence of a fearful beating. Neighbors reported that they heard sounds of quarreling before Mrs. Burke's body was found by a daughter. The house contained equipment for moonshine manufacture.

AGED SEA CAPTAINS DIE ON SAME DAY

LYNN, March 7.—Two aged sea captains who had sailed together and had been friends for more than two generations, died within half an hour of each other today. Captain John Baker, 55 years old, died in Swampscott, and Captain Henry Dudson, of about the same age, succumbed to pneumonia in this city. Before their retirement both followed the seas for more than 50 years.

ADMIRAL PRINDLE, RETIRED, DEAD

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Rear Admiral Franklin C. Prindle, U.S.N., retired, died in the naval hospital here yesterday from a cerebral poisoning, which physicians said was brought about by disabilities incurred during the civil war. He was 61 years old.

At the outbreak of the Civil war, Admiral Prindle entered the navy and participated in many engagements. He was retired in 1901.

CONDEMN SIGNERS OF ROUND ROBIN

MADISON, Wis., March 7.—(By the Associated Press) The Wisconsin senate today voted 17 to 12 today to condemn as "unworthy of men employed in Wisconsin's great educational institutions" the action of 450 University of Wisconsin professors who signed a round-robin during the war attacking the attitude of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

Says It With Hieroglyphs

By NORRIS QUINN (N. E. A. Staff Writer). CLEVELAND, MARCH 5.—"Say it with hieroglyphs!" That will be the motto of a new school of "shifters" which, some fashion experts tell us, will spring into being with next season's styles.

The old school of "shifters" you remember, was an organization of shakedown shenanigans who expressed such sentiments as "I'm looking for a date" or "I like" by paper clips, placed on their clothing.

But after having attained nationwide vogue, the "shifters" died out. Now they'll be resurrected—all because some archeologists, burrowing in the sands of Egypt, unearthed the tomb of King Tutankhamen who reigned 3600 years ago.

Egyptian modes of King Tut's day, say some fashion experts, will exert a profound influence in next season's styles. And to decorate their Egyptian costumes flappers will wear nearly embroidered hieroglyphs—ancient Egyptian symbols.

Now, after having delved deep into tombs of Egyptian lore, I shall today give to American flappers for the first time a collection of suitable hieroglyphs—guaranteed, unadulterated Egyptian—from which they can pick decorations for their new gowns.

Suppose, for instance, you want to tell the boys you're a working girl—so they won't try to make dates during working hours. Figure 1 embroidered on your sleeve.

That's the closest ancient Egyptian approach to "stenographer." The character at the right means "writing" while that at the left means "girl."

But suppose you're up in the business world and head of an office. Use figure 2. That reads (from right to left) "writing-girl-chief."

Or perhaps you'd like to convey a more intimate impression. If you call the attention of the opposite sex to your beauty, use figure 3. That says (right to left) "night-eye-baby-girl." That would mean "I'm a black-eyed baby doll."

If you want to show your affections are not already taken and you're looking for a suitable male companion, use figure 4. It says "I desire a man or freely, I'm looking for a fellow."

Again, you might want to tell the boys you're a sweet miss with very compatible disposition. Use figure 5 meaning "I am a sweet girl."

SEALER SEIZES TWO CARLOADS OF COAL

HAVERHILL, March 7.—Sealer of Weights and Measures Edward M. Putnam has seized two carloads of coal on the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad in this city, consigned to a local dealer, and given orders that the coal should not be unloaded.

The sealer announced that he was seizing the coal because he found that it contained 85 per cent. of matter other than coal.

Sealer Putnam took samples of the coal to Boston and showed them to the attorney general. These samples showed that they contained from 75 to 85 per cent. rock or some other foreign substance.

Mr. Putnam this noon said that he could not prevent the cars of coal from being unloaded but that if the coal should be sold, he could summon the dealer into court.

WAR CLOUDS HANG OVER RUHR

Writer Says France Would
Not Hesitate to Declare
War if Forces Are Attacked

Gloomy Pictures With Warn-
ings of Impending Crisis
Painted by Writers

Unemployment is Increasing and Political Situation is Dangerous

LONDON, March 8.—(By the Associated Press) Gloomy pictures of the situation in the Ruhr with warnings of an impending crisis, are painted today by some of the London newspaper correspondents.

A Dusseldorf dispatch to the Telegraph says that unemployment is increasing and that the political situation is dangerous. Economic conditions are described as disastrous, asserting that 25,000 persons are without work in Dusseldorf alone and that the unemployment wages are insufficient. The workmen are noticeably depressed, the correspondent adds, and rumors are current that they are beginning to doubt the issue of the struggle.

The French, this dispatch asserts, are preparing to deal with the food problem which will undoubtedly arise with the increase of unemployment. The soup kitchens, boycotted at first, are now popular.

The Cologne correspondent of the Daily Express reports that conditions in Essen and Bochum are pitiful and that the death rate has risen 30 per cent.

The French military authorities have given definite orders to admit all foodstuffs to the cities, but some of the shipments never arrived and part of the shipments is stolen.

Education, the correspondent adds, is at a standstill, for the French have occupied the schools. The passing of each day finds public feeling more embittered.

The impression that "the cauldron in the Ruhr may boil over at any time with fearful results for France," is expressed by the Cologne correspondent of the Westminster Gazette. He continues:

"It is the opinion of those best able to judge that unless an agreement is reached by the end of this month, or at the latest by the end of the month of April, I am told that France would not hesitate to declare war and bomb the German cities, including Berlin, if her forces are attacked."

The correspondent adds that it is only fair to point out that many reports of this character may be traced to German sources. He asserts that the difficulties of obtaining reliable information because of the severance of communications is being constantly emphasized.

In the connection the Cologne correspondent of the Express says it is impossible to verify some of the stories in circulation and that rumors much more serious than the facts warrant are rife.

French Re-enter Dortmund
BERLIN, March 8.—(By the Associated Press) The French re-entered Dortmund today, surrounding a schoolhouse and disarming the police who were quartered there. The forces were removed to an unknown destination. The French allowed the patrolmen to take their belongings with them, while the officers were permitted to retain their swords. The town hall was later occupied. Units from Dortmund and Herlen were used in the operation.

PRETTY PARTY AT GIRLS' CITY CLUB

The pupils of Miss Charlotte M. Green's dancing classes held a very attractive costume party in the Girls' City club yesterday afternoon. The costumes were very pretty and represented characters both old and new of many countries.

Miss Janette Lamborn and Master Robert Donovan were awarded prizes for the most pleasing costumes by Miss Green, and in return Miss Green was presented an armful of roses by her pupils.

The pupils and the costumes in which they appeared were as follows: "Rainbow Girl," Helena Bagshaw; "Pierrot," Janette Lamborn; "Chinaman," Gertrude Henderson and Daniel O'Brien; "Queen of Fairies," Ellen Devine; "Midnight Fairy," Louise Dunn; "Pirate," Alice Kilgus; "Irish colleen," Helen Mulcahy and Margaret Landry; "Dutch Girl," Esther Dunlap; "Gypsies," Edith, Riley and Mary Barrett; "Narcissus," Harriet Flannery; "Argentine Girl," Dorothy Mahoney; "Mexican Girl," Lillian Walsh; "Little Bo-Peep," Catherine Casey; "Buttercup," Mary Droney; "Palm Beach Lad," Jack Flood; "George Washington," Richard Flood; "Soldier," Harris Meyers and Jack Cooke; "Spaniard," Robert Donovan; "Colonel," Joseph Reynolds and Herbert Hannafin.

Mrs. John J. Walsh and Mrs. James A. Flood were the matrons, and the music for dancing was furnished by Miss M. Estelle Green, pianist, assisted by Charles Flood, violinist.

BROKE THROUGH ICE

Nothing Definite Known as to Fate of Deer Seen in
River

Lowell's annual snow-bound deer appeared suddenly once more in the vicinity of human habitation in the Belle Grove section of Dracut late yesterday afternoon, trotted swiftly along the Merrimack river banks about half a mile below McManis' nurseries on the Dracut side of the stream and finally turned, and started to cross a thin ice bridge. A moment later the deer was foundering in the stream. Swimming about and unsmilingly ahead of him, the animal appeared to be getting along all right, at first, but a little later, according to eye-witnesses, appeared to become somewhat exhausted.

Two men riding by in a Lowell-hired boat on the shore highway saw the deer attempting to reach the opposite shore, and reported the matter a little later to the Lowell Humane society.

Game Warden Crosby and Assistant Agent Baker of the society hustled to Dracut in the latter's car and tried to locate the deer. After looking about in deep snowdrifts for an hour or more and inspecting the deer's swimming hole, they decided that the animal had probably reached the opposite shore and made its way over the fields to a safer haven.

TORTURE MACHINE WAS FARM TRACTOR

BASTROP, La., March 8.—(By the Associated Press) Persons who have examined carefully the report of the pathologists on the body of the mutilated body of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard, found in Lake La Fourche last December 22, and who are familiar with mechanical devices, declare they believe they have identified the so-called "torture machine" as one of the many road or farm tractors in use throughout the parish.

Ten Witnesses Called
BASTROP, La., Mar. 8.—Ten names appeared on the list of witnesses summoned to appear today before the Morlous parish grand jury investigating the case of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard.

All of them testified at the open hearing in January regarding the disappearance of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard.

J. L. Daniel, father of Watt, who was kidnapped with his son, but released, was examined yesterday. Addie May Hamilton, and her mother, who were questioned by a masked band with a coat of tar and feathers if the girl did not leave her house, also were before the investigators.

Mayor Will Attend
Meeting This Evening

a committee in conference. If the committee suggests any changes in the recommendations of departmental appropriations, which are sound, in my opinion, I am willing to entertain them. While I can insist that my original budget figures must stand, I do not wish to be arbitrary in the matter and will enter the conference in a spirit of co-operation.

"It is to be expected that department heads will protest more or less if their appropriations are not in keeping with their estimates, but if we are to be guided by their estimates, we might as well throw our hats into the winds. I do not look to see much disagreement over the figures after our conference tonight."

The meeting will be presided over by Councilor Gallagher, who is chairman of the committee, and it is scheduled to open at 8 o'clock.

ACCIDENT BOARD HEARING
There will be a hearing under the workman's compensation act in the councilman's chamber at city hall tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the case of Lawrence Sears vs. A. J. Harris, a laborer.

An industrial accident board will preside. On Wednesday, March 14, Joseph A.

GEN. O'RYAN RETAINED SUBMITS FRENCH NAVAL PROGRAM

Counsel for Senate Committee in Investigation of Veterans' Bureau

WASHINGTON, March 8.—(By the Associated Press) The government's naval program was introduced in the chamber of deputies today by Minister of Marine Raiberti with the remark that the program "was conceived within the framework of the Washington accords, so that the government cannot give stronger proof of its intention to obtain their ratification."

"The program" continued the minister, "does not fix the number of units, as that may vary with the needs of the national defense, but it fixes the tonnage for each category."

"For battleships it provides for 176,000 tons, but the preamble explains that the government has no intention of constructing to that extent at present, for these reasons:

"Firstly, the type of capital ship has not been settled upon; secondly, the fleet must be in accord with our financial means, and France has not the means to construct a fleet of capital ships and a fleet of light units."

"We must choose, and we have chosen the latter."

The minister of marine reiterated that the government intended that the Washington treaties should be ratified and was only awaiting the recovery of Deputy Guerin, reporter for the foreign affairs commission, whose illness has been delaying the reports on the treaties.

Deputy Loequin said the slowness of the ratification process had furnished arguments for Americans in accusing France of imperialism.

"America's failure to ratify the peace treaty was also a great vexation for France," interjected Deputy Balaunet.

LOWELL GAEIC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At a well attended meeting of the Lowell Gaelic club last evening, considerable business was transacted, including an election of officers for the coming year, the following were elected: President, Michael J. Murphy; Vice president, Patrick Murphy; Secretary, John J. Leonard; Treasurer, William W. Ryan; Guard, John J. Cummins; Sergeant-at-arms, John J. Costello; board of trustees, Patrick Murphy, Michael J. Leonard, John J. Cummins, John J. Costello, and Thomas O'Rourke.

A rising vote of thanks was extended by the members to the retiring president, William Ryan, who in turn thanked the members for the fine cooperation shown him during the past year.

President-elect O'Dea thanked the members for the honor shown him, and outlined his program for the coming year. He asked the co-operation of all to make the organization a live one.

The club voted to celebrate St. Patrick's day by holding a ladies' night and social on the evening of the 17th.

THE MOVIE-TORIUM

Tom Meighan plans to return to the stage in "Back Home and Bye." Holmes Herbert is acting in "Sandro of the Sea," being filmed in Naples. Charles Ray will present his model of the Mayflower to the Los Angeles museum when he completes "The Courtship of Miles Standish."

Sets for "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall" will be erected while Mary Pickford is acting the role of the dancing girl in "Rosita."

Robert Agnew, juvenile lead in "Clarence," has signed a long-term contract with Paramount.

"Six Days," based on Elmer Glyn's story, will be directed by Charles Brabin.

Conrad Nagel will play opposite Hope Hampton in the screen version of "Lawful Larceny."

Edwin Carewe is in Zion national park, Uta, to direct scenes of the film version of "The Girl of the Golden West." Members of the cast with him are J. Warren Kerrigan, Russell Simpson, Sylvia Breamer, Wilfred Lucas, Hector Sarno, Nelson McDowell, Joseph Hazelton, Cecil Holland and Minnie Freest.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PREVENTION OF COLDS

Feeling that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, the board of health has issued for the benefit of the residents of Lowell the following list of valuable suggestions for the prevention of cold.

First of all, keep away from the person who has a cold. Avoid the cougher and sneezer. Never kiss on the mouth.

Secondly, do not use a common towel or drinking cup. Do not borrow any one's handkerchief. Especially the baby should have his own handkerchief.

Thirdly, keep your fingers away from your nose or mouth. Special precautions can be taken by avoiding dry, overheated rooms, which predispose to colds. Pans of water should be placed on the radiators to supply moisture.

Fresh air is the best of tonics, and exercise goes a long way toward keeping you fit. Dress for the weather. Too many clothes are as bad as not enough.

Be careful of your food. Contrary to the usual belief, it is dangerous to stuff a cold. People who overeat are more apt to catch cold. Daily bowel movements are essential to good health. They help to ward off cold. In young children the removal of adenoids will often do a great deal towards ridding the child of cold.

The number of new cases of measles in this city is on the decrease, as only nine cases were reported at the board of health office since yesterday noon. This brings the total of cases reported since last Saturday noon to 75.

Two Days More and Our Bargain Feast Will Be Over

About 10 o'clock Saturday night we close our doors at 99-103 Gorham St., never to open them again for business. To a certain extent we are sorry to leave this old place that has seen over fifteen years of our life. We had worthy neighbors, good friends and fine customers all around us, but we had to seek larger quarters.

At our new store, 90 Middlesex Street—the old Allan Fraser's store—we will have the much needed room to properly take care of our trade.

To wind up our business on Gorham Street, we have made a special effort to give the people of Lowell special bargains for the next two days, and here are a few examples:—

THE COAL QUESTION

With abundance of anthracite for Canada and some being shipped to Germany, thousands of people in New England and other parts of the country suffer for lack of coal. Here in Lowell, the shortage is keenly felt as may be judged from the fact that the gas company has sold this far this winter about 9,000 tons of coke.

The National Coal association announces that there is plenty of coal, but no cars to move it, which affords little consolation to those who cannot get coal at any price. It might be well now to open negotiations for the purchase of American coal from Canada. If there are no cars to deliver coal in the United States, how was the American coal transported to Canada by rail?

The whole situation is one that reflects upon the inefficiency of the government in permitting such a situation to become possible. Even now, some of the authorities in this state feel that if the cold weather continues, it may be necessary to seize coal in transit to Canada or elsewhere in order to meet public necessity and prevent further suffering. Already it is admitted that many fatal cases of grippe and pneumonia have resulted from heatless homes due to lack of coal. There is here as elsewhere all over the northern states of this country, a state of affairs relative to the coal question that demands investigation and exposure.

The president has blamed the Interstate Commerce Commission for misrepresenting the situation; but it does not help the public to have the Washington authorities try to shift the responsibility to other shoulders. The question is whether the people can be intimidated in this way indefinitely. No further relief measures are possible this season except the people go out and seize coal wherever they find it in transit, which would be a serious step.

But in spite of the needs of New England or any other part of the country, the export of coal continues to Canada and to Europe.

Surely this is a typical parallel to Nero fiddling while Rome burned except that in our case we freeze instead of burn.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

Most city people are so far from the simple life that they forget what it means, to be free to eat, drink, sleep and enjoy outdoor life without having to time their every act to the sound of the bell or the rigid discipline and set order of city life.

This has been well illustrated by the visit of Zohbua, king of the black tribes in Swaziland, Africa, to London. The sights that impressed him most were the rushing crowds and the snakes in the zoo.

He says, the hustle and bustle and mad rush and the roaring of traffic sapped his energy and left him very tired. Civilization is doing that to all of us, constantly. In cities our nerves have to withstand a frightful number of shocks. The wise man goes to the country to recuperate in peace and quiet as often as possible. The country folks are not nearly so nervous as those who live in the cities and are exposed to the nerve-racking noise and bustle inseparable from city life.

King Zohbua is impressed with the number of people with sad faces, seen in every crowd. This strikes every visitor from the country; and it is but a slight indication of the mental depression resulting from reverses or the shocks received in the battle of life as experienced in the cities. Nine out of every ten wear an expression of anxiety. They are in a hurry; there is something bothering them, something important to do, somewhere to go, somebody to see, some business matter pressing for settlement, and when one trouble of this kind is disposed of, another is on—such is our increasing hustle and bustle. How can we get away from it? Either go to the country to find the simple life of the farm or else learn to take things easy. Some people worry themselves to death unnecessarily, while others will take things as they come with uniform courage and good humor. The man who gives way to worry or fretfulness in city life, is lost. He simply indulges what might be termed a form of slow suicide.

THE MAYOR'S BUDGET

Judging from the expressions of certain councilors at Tuesday night's meeting, the budget of Mayor Donovan is not likely to be approved without a protest. The heads of departments, so far as examined, with some exceptions, favored the budget of the commission, as might be expected, because the amounts therein are higher.

It is very evident that the council cannot reach a final decision on the estimate for some of the departments without a conference with the mayor. If His Honor finds that in any particular case he cut too deeply to warrant the normal or efficient functioning of any department, we have no doubt that he will revise his figures to meet what seems to be the actual needs of any particular case. He does not want to put any department out of business; but he undoubtedly feels that if the retrenchment policy be strictly applied, much more can be accomplished with the amounts specified in his budget than even the heads of departments may deem practicable. Of course, none of the departments want to be placed on short allowance; and it would be but natural that a policy of strict retrenchment following one of political extravagance would result in strong opposition from the people affected, although in the long run it would undoubtedly be best for all concerned. In all probability the differences between the mayor and the council can be amicably arranged if the finance committee reviews the whole situation with His Honor and shows where he has cut too deeply in any particular case. It is better to allow enough to run the department during the entire year than to have to provide supplementary appropriations towards the end of the year.

JUTE AND BURLAP

When we speak of jute imports to the United States, we really mean burlap, for jute imports to this country are of minor importance compared with the imports of burlap. The latter is found daily in the raw cotton storages of Lowell and vicinity. You can see burlap on passing automobile trucks, and burlap covering the white cotton that is soon to be transformed into cloth.

The imports of burlap are each year several times as great in value as the imports of raw jute. Burlap valued at $1,375,000 was imported last year, and much of it came from British India and some from Scotland. The greater part of the raw jute imported into the United States is consumed in the manufacture of the heavy, coarse wrapping known as "cotton bagging," used for covering raw cotton. About 90,000,000 yards of this fabric are required annually to cover the cotton crop of the country.

All of this amount is practically manufactured in this country, but on the other hand, in spite of the fact that the United States is the world's largest consumer of burlap, our production is insignificant. It was great during the war when it was manufactured in this country, but American manufacturers of burlap have not been able to compete against the low wage levels of the Calcutta mills.

WAR TIME PRICES

In Cleveland the building trades agree on a wage scale around $1.25 an hour, same as the 1920 war inflation peak. If you hear an explosion coming in over your radio, it may be a farmer reading of this arrangement.

We are always glad when prosperity comes to anyone, particularly to people who work hard for a living. The joker is that prices soon rise to cancel most of the benefits of wage advances.

A "secondary period of inflation" followed the Civil war. It didn't last long. We're in the early stages of a secondary period of inflation now. The wise, who have good memories, are salting away something for the emergency of a possible reaction. The new tariff law is a booster of prices in household necessities and will continue until the stores of the factories are all filled and there is no demand for the goods. It is then we shall see the need of a foreign outlet for our surplus products. The present increase in the cost of building, however, is largely the result of the insistence of the unions upon high prices with the alternative of blocking all building operations.

GENUINE AMERICANISM

The Sun takes pleasure in endorsing and commending the genuine brand of Americanism that is being advocated by Editor John T. Williams of the Boston Transcript in his public addresses as well as in his paper. It is actually nauseating to find editors, college professors and even clergymen voicing the sentiments of propagandist lecturers and assailing the United States government, because we refuse to enter the League of Nations or to interfere in European affairs with a view to harmonizing conflicting elements, although we could not take a single step in that direction without arousing fresh jealousies and inciting still greater enmities.

Mr. Williams' high opinion of the American Legion as a conservator of patriotism and exemplar of loyalty is well deserved. In every city in which there is a live branch of the American Legion, there is an active force for the propagation of true Americanism as it is defined by Editor Williams.

OUR DOLLAR

The American dollar, worth 100 cents in the year 1913, now has a comparative purchasing power of only 61 cents in buying goods at wholesale. So figured the famous economist, Professor Irving Fisher.

If we can find a way to stabilize the buying power of the dollar, we can get rid of periodical hard times. There is a way. Meanwhile, Professor Fisher's announcement calls attention to this: Our dollar fluctuates at home the same as foreign money rises and falls in foreign exchange.

It seems that Harry Y. Young, the human spider, who was killed while climbing the front of a building in New York, had planned such dangerous stunts that if he had not been killed in that case he would have met death very soon in some other undertaking. He had planned walking a tightrope, head downward, over Niagara Falls, and although such a thing might be possible, it indicated a spirit of recklessness that generally reaches a sudden termination. It is not likely that the "Safety Last" association will ever recruit a large membership.

We believe that it is high time to print another tax-book as it is a good many years since the last one was issued. This book gives the tax-payers an opportunity to discover any irregularity or gross injustice in the tax levy.

It seems that we can console ourselves upon the fact that if we cannot have a merchant marine, we shall at least have a "dry" navy for the New England coast.

SEEN AND HEARD

Can Henry Ford play golf well enough to be president?

Hunt the brighter things. Talking movies are a failure thus far.

Chicago may raise marriage licenses to $5. Some say it is worth that and some say it isn't.

A first sign of spring anywhere is a crowd standing around a store window full of fishing tackle.

A Thought

When Christianity wakes up, and every child that belongs to the Lord is willing to work for him, and the Lord will die for him, then Christianity will advance.—Moody.

She Was Indignant

"I am sorry to inform you that your son has been playing truant," said the teacher to the boy's mother. "I don't believe it," cried the indignant parent; "if he has he didn't learn it at home. We never play cards."

Before Probation

An Aberdeen professor returning unsteadily from one of his surgical operations to a local hotel fell into a clump of bushes near his front door. His wife put her head out of the window above and inquired what was the matter. "Woman, woman!" stormed the professor, "what that window? You want me to catch my death of cold?"

Are Didn't Count

The famous violinist had come to his patron's study to receive his fee for a lesson. The patron said, "Here you are, sir." "Here's your check," said the violinist, "and here's your receipt." "Thank you, very much, sir," said the musician, "and now I will tell you something. This violin that I play last night was over 800 years old. I humbly thought that matter. I don't suppose any one noticed it. Anyway, I hope not."

Ingenious, All Right

E. E. Fournier d'Albe is the inventor of the optophone, a machine which, by transforming print into light rays and thence into musical sounds, permits the blind to read. Prof. D. Albe said modestly in an interview in New York: "Yes, my optophone is rather ingenious. It is almost as ingenious as your American business man who used for the combination of his safe the queer words, 'A hell.' A lady asked him why he used such a queer combination as that. He answered: 'I have a very poor memory, and so, you see, ma'am, whenever I forget the combination it comes to me.'"

Politician Trapped

A provincial editor, who had just arrived in London was attending a dinner party given by some friends of his. During the course of the evening he was introduced to a prominent politician who, while shaking hands, said: "Ah, the editor of the Bugle, is it?" "Yes, sir," the journalist replied. "I am indeed glad to meet you, sir," said the politician enthusiastically. "The Bugle is one of the best-known and most influential papers in the country. Often, while reflecting upon its wise and profound utterances, I have felt a strong desire to meet its able editor. For years I have been a reader. Are you in town on business, sir?" "Yes," answered the editor; "you see I am just ready to bring out the first number of my paper and have come to London to see about having it printed."

A Vermont Auctioneer

When a auctioneer bids for a tree, or a barn or haystack, bridge or tree, or stuck outside the village store, or flocked against the gristmill door—I wonder if the auctioneer has played the same, or about the same. As in those days of youthful cheer when Albert Burk was auctioneer.

His left-hand eye had quite an ail, but he could see enough to tell the bid or wink or nod or nod or nod. That sold the family pump or plug. The only time he lost a bid was when he stopped to shift his suit; if he was bidding now and here, the wife would say, "Some auctioneer?"

It took a man to act as clerk when stuff was auctioned off by Burk; he seen him sell a farm and stock and get all through in half an hour. One time he sold for Mason Flower six sixty things in less than an hour; he always sold his own-noble gear. At Burk, my boyhood auctioneer.

He'd hold a bedpost up and say, "This Indian ally stick is a way—I'll bet you all a pound of gum. No wingless beast has ever come off this Indian ally stick. I'll guarantee it won't go dear. Was proud of Burk, the auctioneer."

He taught Hank White his merry trade and so his own auctioneer made; each year his fame, a rising tide. Embroiled new towns on every side. He said that as his end drew near, they heard him whisper, "Going. None can reproach and void for fear he lived and died an auctioneer."—DANIEL L. CADY, in Burlington Daily News.

SUNDAY SCHOOL HAS ANNUAL BANQUET

The members of the Sunday school of the Central Methodist Episcopal church held their annual banquet and meeting at 6:45 last night in the vestry of the church.

A pleasing supper was served by the ladies of the church, Miss Julia Lewis being chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Little Young and Mrs. Constance Young, members. The tables were decorated in green and white, and the members sat at these tables in accordance with the month of their birth.

Rev. Leslie C. Buckles presided at a short business meeting, following the supper. The meeting consisted mainly in the reading of reports. The election of officers, which was to have been held, was postponed until next month's meeting.

A musical program was given by the church quartet, consisting of Miss Ruth O. Halford, Miss Gladys Harris, Alan Buckles and Clarence Chenevert. Following the musical program, members of the school entertained various students. Each group, representing one month of the year, was compelled to do at least one stunt and considerable merriment was caused by their attempts.

The officers of the Sunday school, who had charge of last night's affair, are as follows: Miss Ruth O. Halford, superintendent; Rev. John L. Galt, assistant superintendent; Simonee Chapdelaine, secretary; Mrs. Little Young, treasurer.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Supl. Thomas R. Atkinson of the police department has issued his report of the work performed by the department for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1922. Mayor Donovan. The work is attractively covered and systematically arranged and shows that the organization of the police department for the year ending Dec. 31, 1922, was as follows: One superintendent, one deputy superintendent, three captains, five lieutenants, seven sergeants, one inspector, three policemen, one operator, one stenographer and one musician. Population, estimated, 125,000. Area, 14.1 square miles. Accepted streets, 14,000. Reported streets, 13 miles. The report also contains a detailed account of appointments, promotions and a condensed necrology.

While concerned with the police and the police station, I have a good one concerning Officer Joseph Lamoureux, who answered the telephone at the deputy's office when the latter is needed. A few days ago, Joe was aroused from his calm duties when the special burglar alarm system, connected with the local banks, began to function without having been set. Thinking something serious had happened, Joe jumped up from his seat in a hurry and was right on the job in a jiffy. He called up the bank where the alarm had come and excitedly inquired if anything were amiss. When informed that the signal had been given by accident during a test, Joe went back to his chair and breathed a happy sigh of relief. Of course it was a happy sigh of relief. It would have been necessary for a few officers to get their shooting irons ready and holdout if for the bank.

Radio fans in Lowell who were fortunate enough to attend last night to the concert of 1,500 voices broadcast from Temple hall, Albany, N. Y., last Tuesday night, certainly enjoyed a rare treat. The program consisted mainly of old familiar tunes, popularized years ago by the inimitable Harrigan and Hart. During an intermission in the program, Governor Smith of New York addressed the "audience," giving a very scholarly and humorous talk on the songs which made the Big Town famous. He remarked that so few people of today know the songs of yesterday. "The Slieve," "The Slieve of New York," "Down in the Valley," and others equally well known in years gone by, having been relegated to the background by the tickle-toe tunes of the present generation. But over in the police station yesterday, Inspector John Walsh entered the Inspector's office and picked himself an old-time tune. And "fiddle-de-dee" he sang along with the old airs that any one proposes, which leads to the belief that the N. Y. governor was slightly mistaken when he said the old-time songs were being forgotten.

I am told that the forthcoming Irish concert in the Memorial Auditorium on the evening of March 15 will be the best of its kind heard here for a long time. Indeed, there appears to be ample justification for the opinion that the tunes of Irish music lovers. The program has been arranged with manifold interest and fine regard for the value of the old songs by the Rev. R. J. Toye. Hence it is assured that an evening of rare enjoyment awaits all who attend. In the olden days, I'm told, Professor P. P. Haggerty staged an Irish concert on the 17th of March, which reached the highest point for excellence, and because of an urgent engagement last year for a similar concert, Mrs. Toye has lent her best efforts to a furtherance of the idea which cannot fail to bring success.

Not every American is closely conning his reading to war's alarms and dangers in the future these late winter mornings. To be sure the first page is scanned as always for the latest news, but a full-blooded American begins to succumb to the ravages of the early spring baseball training reports about this time, and the inside sporting pages are the thing when coffee appears and the front page information is hastily eliminated. "Sport chat" and dispatches from the far southern "boiling-out" training grounds.

Who isn't interested in the fact that Babe Ruth has reached what he calls the "boiling-out" mountain region and is dancing the long-legged jig with boys with home-town Arkansas Polo Negro or shaking dice for the smokers with the town's baseball fans and hotel bankers?

Around the baseball training parks in Florida, Alabama, Arkansas, etc., etc., there are the usual signs of the season: stores, trainers, society queens, and paper war correspondents and would-be baseball stars. It is a long trail from South Sudbury, Mass., to the "Moxmark mountains," as Babe calls 'em, but he is there, taking off two pounds of flesh daily in the training routine, gambling, and hoping against hope to get rid of enough surplus weight to regain that historic batting average and make it all home runs every inning if possible this season.

Of course everybody is glad to know that the Babe is down in the "Moxmark." Spring is coming, warm weather is on the wing, the baseball season will soon be with us. Let us trust that Babe, the gangster of spring's real harbingers, will keep out of the hands of the Arkansas sheriffs, withstand all temptations and keep his training stars even if general Polo Negro is laughing around in the grand and watching for developments. He may come back, as do all has-beens, but he has not yet reached that stage. He will bloom out with the spring season with his old time popularity.

Jordan Alleges Alienation of Wife's Affections—Pair Met at Billerica

CAMBRIDGE, March 8.—William F. Jardine, testifying yesterday at the proceedings to determine whether he shall be retained as guardian of Dorothy Gordon, insane heiress, or shall be supplanted by John D. Gardiner of Baldwin, L. I., her uncle, as administrator of the $400,000 estate, admitted that he charged the young woman $500 a year for a room that she has never occupied and never seen, at his home in Winchester. He rents the nine-room house for $150 a year, he testified.

Jardine said his parents were named Ryan, and explained that he took the name of a family with whom he lived at one time, although never adopted by them. He testified to incidents in the life of the Gordon family, referred to the death of Dorothy's mother in an automobile accident, and said he was nominated as guardian by Dorothy herself.

The guardian was questioned about his acquaintance with a Mrs. Sue Jordan, whom he said, he met at Billerica 12 years ago. He admitted visits to the Jordan apartment on Commonwealth avenue, in the Brighton district, but said his visits were always on business. Counsel for Gardiner objected to an admission from Jardine that Dorothy's mother was charged $74 for furniture in a Commonwealth avenue apartment, the location and ownership of which were not mentioned.

At the close of the day's proceedings, Jardine was served in the corridor of the courthouse with papers in a suit brought by Elmer F. Jordan for $25,000 damages from Jardine for alienation of the affections of Jordan's wife, Mrs. Sue Jordan.

GEN. SHERMAN WAS SOUTHERN EDUCATOR

BATON ROUGE, La., March 8.—Launching of preparations for the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans to be held in New Orleans in April has recalled to Louisiana historians an interesting fact in connection with one of the outstanding figures of the Civil War which is known to few persons of the present generation.

General William Tecumseh Sherman, who headed the "march to the sea" through Georgia, resigned as head of a southern educational institution in 1881 to tender his services to Ohio, his native state.

There hangs in Garig Hall, at Louisiana State University here, an oil painting of General Sherman, who was first superintendent of the old Louisiana State Seminary, at Alexandria, La. General Sherman was born in 1823, was educated in Baton Rouge and the Louisiana State Seminary, where he graduated at West Point, attained the rank of colonel in the army, resigned his commission, and was elected superintendent of the seminary in 1853.

A member of the faculty of the seminary was Colonel Samuel B. Lockett, commandant of cadets, who graduated second in the class of 1853 at West Point. Colonel Lockett was an artist of note and the portrait of General Sherman now in Garig Hall was painted by him at Alexandria. Colonel Lockett, incidentally, enlisted in the service of the Confederacy at the outbreak of the war and as chief engineer with the troops at Vicksburg planned the fortifications at that point which withstood for many months the siege of the Federal forces under General Grant.

The portrait of Gen. Sherman hangs over the mantle in the library of the seminary at Alexandria and when the building burned it was carried to safety by the cadets.

ACQUAINTED A HERO

LONDON, March 8.—For a thrilling rescue from drowning Peter C. Hutton, a shipman, was proclaimed by the Royal Humane Society to be the bravest man of the year.

This feat, for which he was awarded a gold medal, was performed when the ill-fated British cruiser Raleigh met with disaster on the coast of Labrador last August. Hutton saved a mate from drowning when a boat capsized, throwing eleven men into heavy seas. He had gained a place of safety when he saw a companion being rapidly carried away by the surf. Regardless of his own safety, and after a heroic struggle, he rescued the man.

Court Orders More Liquor

Returned to Owner—Surrender $580,000 Worth

BOSTON, March 8.—The United States district court yesterday ordered the return of $580,000 worth of alcohol seized by prohibition agents from Jacob A. Kirach of New York. This is the third consignment of seized liquor ordered turned back to the owners by the court this week, and brings the total value of liquors so surrendered in the past few days to $580,000.

The Kirach alcohol comprised 28,000 gallons in 250 drums. On Monday there was returned by order of the court to Matthew J. Canlon of Lawrence 20 barrels of choice old whisky, valued at $30,000. On Tuesday there was returned by order of the same court 10,000 gallons of prize wine liquors valued at $25,000, seized from the Keefe Bros. of Dartmouth street.

BILL PASSED BY SENATE

First Victory for Measure
Exempting City Laborers
From Civil Service

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, March 8.—Advocates of exempting city and town laborers from civil service gained their first victory yesterday when the senate, by a vote of 19 to 12, passed to a third reading Senator Frank H. Putnam's bill. The Lowell senator's measure removes the present civil service restrictions from certain cities and towns, including Lowell, and allows appointments of laborers to be made without regard to civil service.

Mrs. Brosseau Declares Final
Release From Stomach Trouble
Is Due Entirely to Tanlao

"Tanlao is rapidly turning my years of suffering into good health, and my gratitude is unspeakable," says Mrs. Joseph Brosseau, 171 Third street, Leominster, Mass.

"For sixteen years I suffered dreadfully with stomach trouble, and the misery and anxiety almost shattered my nerves. Many foods I never dared touch, and what little I did eat caused me awful pain, and I would almost suffocate with gas. I had terrible headaches and dizzy spells, and was so frail and weak I was very dependent over my condition.

"The wonderful results my husband got from Tanlao caused me to try it, and I wish I had done so years ago. Three bottles have not only cured me, but without harm or worry, I am getting stronger every day, and I feel improving at this rate until I finish the full treatment of six bottles. I feel just the way I have been wanting to feel.

DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO
CURB AUTO STEALING

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON, March 8.—In a desperate attempt to curb automobile stealing, Colonel Alfred F. Foote, commissioner of public safety, has filed a bill and had it admitted by the joint committee on roads, which would give state police officers the right to enter the premises of dealers in second hand automobiles.

State police officers are often compelled to chase auto thieves, Colonel Foote says, and unless they have the power to enter these second-hand garages and search for stolen cars, such automobiles won't be recovered. The bill would give the state officers the same rights as local officers.

There is an emergency preamble attached to it which would allow it to go into effect at once.

It reads as follows:
"Whereas, it is important and for the interest of the commonwealth that prompt action should be taken to prevent the theft of motor vehicles, therefore this act is declared to be an emergency law, necessary for the immediate protection of the public.

"Section 1. Section sixty-six of chapter one hundred and forty of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting at the beginning thereof the words: 'The commissioner of public safety, so as to read as follows:

"Section 66. The commissioner of public safety, the police commissioner in Boston, chief of police of any other city, the selectmen of a town or any public officer authorized by them, or an agent or inspector of the registrar may at any time enter upon any premises used by any person licensed under section fifty-nine for the purpose of carrying on his licensed business, and examine all second hand motor vehicles or parts thereof kept or stored in or upon the premises, and all books, papers and inventories relating thereto."

HOYT.

Senator Putnam declared that the passage of the bill would mean improved conditions. He reminded the senate that the committee on public safety, which he is chairman, heard all of the arguments against the measure and then voted in favor of it. On a standing vote 15 senators voted in favor of the bill and 6 against it. The final vote was taken on a roll call.

The roll call was as follows:
In favor: Senators Charles M. Austin, George H. Carlock, George D. Chamberlain, Henry P. Clark, Eben S. Dray, John H. Harbison, William J. Look, John P. Shea, Walter E. McNamee, Frank H. Putnam, Walter Shucbrink, Dexter A. Snow, John A. Stoddard, Warren E. Tarbell, Albert P. Wadleigh, Wellington Wells and William S. Young.

Against: Senators George W. P. Babbs, Edward J. Cox, William J. Francis, Richard A. Gibbons, John W. Halliwell, William L. Hennessey, John W. McCormack, Patrick J. Melody, Christian M. Quinn, William H. O'Leary and Albert T. Rhodes.

Another fight will be staged in the senate when the bill comes up for enactment. It is expected, however, that unless the senators have a sudden change of heart, the bill will be passed by them.

Then it will go over to the house, and the members of that body, who are bitterly opposed to it, are actively organizing to prevent its adoption.

PARISH SUPPER AT
ELIOT UNION CHURCH

More than 100 members of the Eliot Union church attended the monthly parish supper which was served last night in the church vestry by a committee of women of the parish headed by Mrs. Chester Runnels, Mrs. Herbert Horne and Mrs. Ralph Runnels. Following the supper, the meeting was addressed by the Rev. William B. Tutill, D.D., where Rev. Tutill's lecture, "The Peace of Oregon and Its Settlement," was given.

Dr. Tutill's lecture hinged on the story of Marcus Whitman, and to him he gave most of the credit for getting the Oregon Territory for the United States. Whitman studied for the ministry and then took up the study of medicine. Returning from Montreal, where he had practiced, he decided that the ministry was his vocation and only himself as a missionary. Dr. Tutill introduced, as the heroine of the story, one Narcissa Prentiss, of Plattsburg, who had, at the age of 21, also offered herself as a missionary. The two were destined to go out west, but before going they met and were married.

The wedding trip took them to Oregon, where they settled among the Indians. While working there Whitman heard that the question of whether Oregon belonged to the United States or to Canada, had come up in the senate, and he decided to go in person to Canada. He immediately started for Washington and before a special conference he swung the president to his side of the question and Oregon was kept for the United States.

Whitman returned to his wife, and it was not long before the trail across the Great Divide was well worn by settlers seeking new homes in their territory. The Indians had been incited against Whitman by the British and he was murdered. Following his death a massacre of the white settlers took place. Although Whitman and his family had died, his work had been accomplished, and Oregon Territory was part of the states settled by Americans.

Previous to the lecture, Mrs. Leland Balch entertained with a group of songs.

PAY TAX EARLY AND
AVOID THE RUSH

Only six more days for filing of federal income tax returns. The office of the collectors in room 4 at the postoffice is open from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. and four men are there to fill out and receive these returns.

The deputy collector stated today that, figuring on the same number of returns this year as were made last year, there are still between three and four thousand residents of Lowell and vicinity who have not as yet filed their tax returns.

Last night, between the hours of seven and nine, there were but three returns filed, and about ten more appeared at the office to get tax blanks. One important item, that may not be understood by some of the smaller employers of labor, is the rule states "that every individual making payments of salaries, rents, interest or commissions of $1000 or more is required to make a true and accurate return to the commissioner of internal revenue, showing amount paid and name and address of the recipient." Forms for the filing of this information may be had at the collector's office in the postoffice.

If all who have to file a return put it off until Saturday or later, they will be forced to line up in the hall of the postoffice and wait in line until their turn, whereas, if they take the opportunity offered today and tomorrow they will find that there will be no waiting in line, and the returns will be filed out and filed immediately.

WILL ELECT
CLASS OFFICERS

The election of officers for the evening high school graduating class will be held at the high school this evening. The following nominations have been received up to noon today and it is expected that more may be received before the time of election: For president, Robert Holmes and Ernest W. Turcott; vice president, Winifred Ready and Gertrude Carpenter; secretary, Cecile Soucy, Irene Zapos and Josephine Adamowski; treasurer, Jas. P. Lochran.

There is considerable competition for each of the offices, except treasurer, and a great amount of advertising of favorites has been done during the past few days by interested friends of the candidates.

WILL RENEW
OLD ACQUAINTANCES

Lowell Masonic circles will be represented at the 50th anniversary celebration in Maynard of Charles A. Welch lodge, A.F. and A.M., next Saturday night. Among those who will visit Maynard that evening and participate in the ceremonies and festivities incident to the half-century birthday observance of the lodge will be Thomas Lees of this city, who is a past master of the Maynard lodge.

The journey of Mr. Lees to Maynard last Saturday will be a particularly interesting one for many reasons. The former manager of the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway formerly lived and worked in that thriving industrial town on the Assabet river and has many genuine friends in the community thereabouts.

He admitted today that his visit to Maynard would be somewhat in the nature of an "old-home day" reunion of old industrial and fraternal comrades, many of whom saw Maynard grow from a small but progressive town to a community of many thousands.

Mr. Lees was worshipful master of Charles A. Welch lodge for three years, in 1884, 1885 and 1886. The organization was slightly more than ten years old at that time and rapidly growing in membership. During the leadership of Mr. Lees, the programs of activities were vigorously branching out and bringing in new members regularly. The Masonry of the entire state expressed genuine interest in the "Maynard youngster," and it was not long before many citizens of both Maynard and the surrounding country towns had embraced the lodge as a fraternal organization.

The lodge secured its name from a former popular grand master of the fraternal organization.

AIR GLIDER MEET
NEXT OCTOBER

CHICAGO, March 8.—A competition for gliders is being arranged to be held in St. Louis next October at the time of the Pulitzer trophy race, according to J. J. O'Malley, secretary of the aviation club of Chicago.

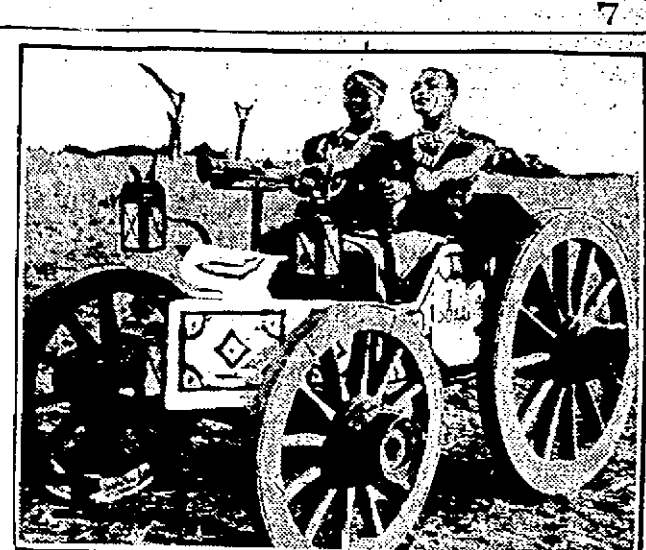

A number of machines are under construction in Chicago. Mr. O'Malley states, and the entry list of men operating motorized gliders is growing to be large. "A machine built from the plans of the 'Vampy' glider, which made the world's record at the German meet last August, is now in the United States and will compete," said Mr. O'Malley.

"Though a good airplane pilot will readily start to fly a glider, no one without previous training in power flight can expect to successfully manipulate a glider. This work requires a sense of 'feel' and the pre-knowledge of detecting the 'soaring wave' in the air current. In short, motorless flight has been a long and arduous task, which speaks a new era in aeronautics. This coupled with the proven fact that gliders, with their large wing area, are immeasurably less liable to accident than heavy power machines, speaks volumes for safety in flight."

NOON SERVICES IN CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH

Arrangements have been made to hold noon services during Holy Week in the Central M. E. church by the Lowell Ministers' association. The services will be especially for those whose work keeps them down town all day. The services will start at 12:30 p. m. and close promptly at 1:30 p. m. Local pastors will have charge, and there will be appropriate music.

At yesterday's meeting of the association held at the Y.M.C.A., Rev. Jos. P. Kennedy, D.D., presiding, an address was given by Rev. Arthur C. McGilbert, Jr., pastor of All Souls' church.

IRISH CLERGY PROPOSE PEACE

Message Sent to Republicans
Urges Immediate Cessation
of Hostilities

News Received Joyfully at
Cork—General Hope That
Peace Will Come

CORK, March 8. (By the Associated Press)—Peace proposals, signed by many of the Catholic clergy and addressed to the leader of the southern republicans, Commandant Gen. Tom Barry, by Father Duggan of Cork were issued here last evening. The immediate cessation of hostilities is sought by halting the activities and operations of the Irish republican army and the dumping of arms and munitions by the republicans under charge of the battalion commanders, who will be responsible that they shall not be used against the Free State government and forces.

After a general election is held the arms and munitions are to be handed over to the elected government. The proposals are signed by Archbishop Harty of Cashel, Canon Cobalen of Brandon, Canon Ryan of Thurles, Father O'Leary of Cork, Frank Daly, chairman of the Cork harbor committee, Dr. O'Donovan and T. P. Dowdall of Cork.

General Barry has replied, undertaking to circulate the proposals for immediate consideration among the members of the executive council to the Irish republican army. The news has been received here joyfully and there is general hope that peace will be brought about.

12 Irish Prisoners Killed

DUBLIN, March 8. (By the Associated Press) Twelve irregular prisoners were killed in County Kerry yesterday through the explosion of trigger mines. National troops, proceeding from Tralee to Kiliorglin, encountered a lone barricade and brought prisoners from Tralee to remove the obstruction. Concealed in the barricade was a trigger mine which exploded, killing eight of the prisoners and wounding two national army officers and soldiers. Another barricade was found on a bridge and prisoners were taken there to remove it. Here there was another trigger mine which also exploded, killing four prisoners.

Routine business was transacted at the meeting and bills amounting to $66 were approved.

GLASS BLOWERS AT THE A. G. POLLARD STORE

The Venetian style of free-hand glass blowing is almost a lost art, only a dozen or so workmen living in this country creating wares by blowing and spinning glass today. During the present week two of these men are at A. G. Pollard's store performing some of their work, and the exhibition is open to all who care to see the really wonderful artists at work. The exhibition is in the rug and drapery department on the fourth floor and will be here this week only.

In manufacturing glass on a large scale, a clay pot is used, the pot standing about four feet high and holding a ton of glass. After the pot is filled with sand, potash and lead, it is put into a large furnace and the heat applied for 24 hours at 3700 degrees. It is then ready for the blowers, who use an iron pipe from five to seven feet in length. The process of blowing has not changed during all the years. In Venice a tablet was recently dug up with the figures of two glass blowers making a vase in the same method still employed today by expert workmen.

The tale of the actual discovery of glass will probably never be found, but it is, of course, one of the oldest arts in the world. Glass is really known as a "manufactured metal," being a combination of earth substances. It is also about the most wonderful metal known, as it is a non-conductor of electricity and is the most elastic of all metals. Those who delve into ancient histories of the arts, find curious reports of the making of glass in previous centuries, even as far back as the days of Pliny, the historian.

When the Mohammedans drove the Christians from Constantinople when the latter was the seat of the Roman government, the glass workers previously living there, went to Venice, and it is to the manufacture of glass that Venice owes her greatness. The Venetians were very proud, of course, of their flourishing industry. Many master glassmakers were made nobles and permitted to wear swords as marks of distinction. To the Venetians the world is indebted for many beautiful colors of glass, among them being the golden ruby out of which ruby jewels are made.

The basis of all glass is sand. Potash must be added, of course, as these two things together are absolutely necessary to cause vitrification or fusion, but these alone will not produce glass. For making best quality, such as is used for cut glass, lead is added in equal weight to the sand and potash. Window glass is made by putting in time in place of lead, and for glass bottles and cheap tumblers, soda is used in place of lead.

Everyone is invited to visit the Pollard store this week and see the glass-blowing exhibition in charge of experts who will gladly explain the details of the wonderful trade and give demonstrations of the ancient art with many interesting features.

OWEN YALE'S NEMESIS

Leads Harvard Hockey Forces to Big Three Championship in Great Game

NEW HAVEN, March 8.—The same remarkable athlete, George Owen, Jr., who last fall turned back the Blue football team in the bowl, was the same remarkable athlete last night when leading the Harvard hockey forces against Yale in the third and rubber game of their annual series. Owen drove home a shot, after receiving a pass from his former school-boy pal, Ted Crosby, that whizzed by Charles Jenkins and gave the Cambridge men another victory and incidentally the championship of the so-called Big Three of which Princeton is the other member.

In the first game, which was played in this city in January, it was Owen who won in an overtime session of 23 minutes and last night it was his striking workmanlike play that gave the Cambridge sextet a 2 to 1 win after 12 minutes and 45 seconds of additional play.

RUMORS OF SALE OF RED SOX RENEWED

BOSTON, March 8.—Rumors of the impending sale of the Red Sox by President Harry Frazee were renewed today as a result of a meeting here from the Hot Springs, Ark., training camp of the Boston team. A dispatch from the Hot Springs, Ark., training camp of the Boston team, which was received here today, stated that Frazee was in New York with President Johnson of the American League, and that the prospect of a sale of the team was being discussed. It was also stated that Frazee was in New York with President Johnson of the American League, and that the prospect of a sale of the team was being discussed.

OXFORD TO SEND TEAM FOR RELAY CARNIVAL

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—This year's relay carnival of the University of Oxford is expected to be a decided international affair, with the announcement that Oxford university would be represented in at least two events on each day of the meet. Word has been received from the English institution, Dr. Geo. W. Orton, that plans were being made to bring over a team for the two-mile American relay championship and that the Oxford team would compete in the two-mile international race.

OLD LOWELL BANK BOWLERS WIN

Yesterday afternoon, the Old Lowell bank bowlers, through the superb rolling of Dana Hart, won a dual match from the representatives of the Merchants Trust company by a margin of 25 pins, the final score being 1036 to 1010.

The match was an exciting one, and spurred on by the thought that the loser would furnish the supper for the winners, the rival pin-poppers gave their best to achieve victory. Until the final round, the Trust company bowlers were leading by a small margin, which was wiped out when Hart knocked them down in the last string for a total of 124, the best of the day, and then escorted his teammates to the supper table as guests of the losers.

By VINCENT RICHARDS
Famous Tennis Star

Of all the nations represented today in the game of lawn tennis and especially in the Davis cup competition, Japan is the one we fear most.

Although Australia won the right to challenge for the famous international trophy last year at Forest Hills it was only because Japan was unable to send its full strength to our shores at that time.

With Kumagae, Shimidzu and Kashio here and ready for the tennis season, the Japanese have become a real menace for the titleholders during the coming tournament year.

To the famous and popular "Itchy"

Kumagae must go Japan's credit for the place it occupies in the tennis world. It might be termed the "Father of Lawn Tennis" in the land of the cherry blossom at the present time.

"Itchy" came to America in 1916, possessing simply a backcourt game and nothing else, but he has mastered this type of game to its fullest extent and during his first season's play in this country he gained an enviable place in American lawn tennis circles.

His rise to fame in the tennis world has advanced steadily until now he is placed in the coveted "great ten" by the ranking committee. It will be interesting to see Kumagae play after a two-year layoff.

Many tennis critics are of the opinion that Kenzo Shimidzu is a better player in every sense of the word than his fellow countryman, Kumagae. To my way of thinking, Shimidzu even at the present time is no better than the famous "Itchy" in his prime. I do say that Shimidzu has a much better chance for improvement than Kumagae ever had and that because his game is more orthodox.

Japan may not win the Davis cup next year and for that matter may not even win the right to challenge for this great trophy, but the real menace in Japan tennis will come with the next three years. They are taking more pains in the development of their younger players than any other country in the world today.

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

The interesting contest between Kid Williams and Bill Duggan, star rushers of the Lowell and New Bedford polo clubs, who are competing for a cup for rush and goal scoring honors in the intensity polo series has revived discussion among polo fans relative to some of the stars of other days.

In the league season just closed Williams won the goal scoring honors, but Duggan won the final week of play. On the other hand Duggan showed the way to all men in going to the spot, with Williams in fourth place.

A veteran fan says that while Duggan and Williams are the stars now he feels that had Jigger Higgins played at first rush this season he would be well up with both of them. He says that in the west where the rings were much longer than those in this vicinity Higgins was a real star.

But when it comes to goal scoring honors Bob Hart, who by a strange coincidence is now playing in the polo series had it on them all. Hart in one season of 20 weeks scored more than 100 goals. This, it is believed, is the greatest number ever registered in this number of weeks. In making this mark Hart set another record by scoring 15 goals in one game.

Hart is still a great goal getter and while out of the game several weeks this season, because of a severe attack from the leg, he was up among the leaders. The other night in the second series game Hart scored six. He was one of the hardest and most accurate drivers that ever played polo. He shoots for the corners of the cage and his angle drives are the terror of all goal tenders.

Bill Blount, one of the best goal tenders in recent years said one night after Hart had scored a number of goals against him: "Well, you can't stop what you can't see." This explains one of the big reasons for Hart's unusual success in making up record scores. For many years he held the distinction of leading all other competitors for the honor, and he is still going strong.

And when playing baseball Hart also was a hard driver. He was a member of the Lowell high school team at one time. Later he hit for the Lowell team. Hart was signed up by the Nashua team. Bob was an outfielder, but when he joined Nashua he was assigned to first base. Upon his

By N. B. A. Service
CHICAGO, Ill., March 7.—It is only six years since Harry L. Gill, famous several of the other polo players have engaged in the national game. Bill Duggan, of the New Bedford team, at one time was given a try out by the Boston Red Sox. He is a fast and finished infielder, but failed to make the grade because of inferior hitting. At that he is still active in the game and can turn in a very creditable exhibition.

Ferdie Hartman, captain of the Lowell polo club, was also a good ball player. He was an infielder and also a fair hitter, and speedily became a star. He was small in stature, was noted for "bumming" his way to first. He generally got on the paths some way and once he did he usually kept moving. Frank Hart also did not confine his athletic endeavors to polo, for he played some baseball in his younger days.

Tony Walsh and his brother, Pete, who had from New Bedford put in their time in the summer playing baseball. Tony is quite a pitcher, while Pete is an outfielder. Several others also do the polo and what they are hanging up the stakes and pads each season.

With two games tucked away the Lowell polo players are confident of winning the series in the next contest in Fitchburg. New Bedford however, with their backs to the wall are determined to turn the tide. The game looks up as one of the most important of the season.

The large crowd, the intense rivalry and the keen interest attending the first game of the Y. M. C. A. relay series last night augurs well for the success of this championship competition. The supporters of both outfits were out in large numbers and enthusiasm that greeted the many thrilling plays has seldom been exceeded in local athletics.

FASTEST MEN MAY MEET IN 100-YARD DASH

CHICAGO, March 8.—The world's fastest human may meet this summer in the racing classic of the season. Cyril Coaffee, Canadian track star, who, with Charlie Paddock, California wonderman, holds the world's 100-yard record, says he and Paddock will both be invited to run a 100-yard match race at Victoria, B. C. Furthermore, Coaffee is willing to go.

Resides during the century in 1936, Coaffee holds the Canadian record for the 100-yard dash, with 25 4-5 as his mark. He is 25 years old and will make Chicago his home.

STASIAK MATCHED TO MEET KOLOKOFF

Lowell wrestling fans who saw Stanley Stasiak, the Polish Hercules, perform here a few weeks ago, will be pleased to hear that he is under way to bring him back to Lowell. It has been rumored that Stasiak is looking for a new place to make his home.

Stasiak is looked upon as one of the most promising heavyweights of the present crop and already he has appeared in many of the big cities. He has met about all the champions of note and points to victories over Wladimir Zuyezko, Charlie Culler, Charlie Hanson, Ivan Michalich and George Hills. He has issued challenges to Strangler Lewis, world's champion, and also to Zuyezko, former champion.

The giant folds tips the beam at 241 pounds, stands 6 feet 2 inches, neck 21 inches, waist 37 inches, normal, 35 inches, 12 inches, 42 inches, 18 inches, 12 inches 25 and reach 81.

His opponent is just quite as large as Stasiak, but is reported as being able to hold his own with any of the heavyweights in America. Recently he disposed of many of the best grapplers who claim to be the real champs of the United States.

Stasiak is big in every way. A giant in size and strength, a heart like that of a lion, with a fair knowledge of the wrestling game and improving daily, he is bound to receive a serious consideration.

MOVE TO PREVENT FIRPO-BRENNAN BOUT

NEW YORK, March 8.—Luis Firpo, South American aspirant to a title match with Jack Dempsey, was summoned to court yesterday on a charge of causing a disturbance in a saloon. The order was obtained by the Pioneer Sporting club, which claims to hold an agreement with the American Athletic Union to fight a bout with Jack Dempsey, a heavyweight. Firpo later met Dempsey under the auspices of another club, with the sanction of the state boxing commission.

The Pioneer club sought unsuccessfully to obtain from the boxing commission an order forcing Firpo to appear before it with some boxer to be selected by the commission. The order was refused. Firpo returned to South America after boxing Herman Winkler to meet Brennan at the gym.

Plan to Seek $5,000,000 Buried Treasure in Early Spring

SUPPOSED LOCATION OF THE $5,000,000 TREASURE WHICH DR. CLAUDE G. BAKER (ABOVE) AND FRED MARYOT (BELOW) WILL SEEK.

By NBA Service
WICHITA, Kas., Mar. 6.—In quest of $5,000,000 in gold, buried three centuries ago, an adventurous party will start early this spring from Wichita to the rarely penetrated mountains of New Mexico on a treasure hunt which the romances of "Treasure Island" and Captain Kidd seem commonplace.

Fred Maryot, French Canadian and former employee of the United States Geological Survey, and Dr. Claude G. Baker, wealthy Wichita dentist and Maryot's financial backer, will be the principals in the expedition.

An ancient tale, gleaned from the black-letter text of old French documents and records and hinted at in obscure and forgotten histories, gave the treasure seekers their knowledge of the rich gold cache.

Says the tale—which history verifies: In 1520 the French Government, then in control of the vast territory known as the Louisiana territory, sent a party of 300 to explore the land between Louisiana and the Pacific.

They went up the Rio Grande valley and traveled inland. Running out of water, they turned back toward the river. They found a territory which evidently had been the scene of volcanic disturbance.

Scattered about on the ground and in cracks and crevices in the rocks, they found gold. Almost pure gold. It was everywhere.

But before they could get away with the metal, the Frenchmen were attacked by Apaches. They beat the savages off. But, fearing another raid, they buried the gold.

The Apaches returned with reinforcements. They slew all the Frenchmen save two. These escaped, made their way back to France and told their story at the French court.

Greatly for the yellow metal, the king sent a powerful expedition to recover it. But the expedition never was heard from. The ship doubtless went down at sea with all hands.

But this tale is not the only clue to the treasure. In 1898 two shepherds were watching their flocks grazing in the rough region near Yuma, N. M.

Suddenly the staff of one of the shepherds sank into the ground. Quickly the two men began to dig. A deep shaft was disclosed. Half way down, it was barred by a large flat rock. The shepherds threw this aside. In the dark passageway they could see two heavy wooden doors with iron bars. At the pit's bottom lay an object resembling an iron crucible. An ancient rawhide ladder entwined when they touched it.

Terrified, the two shepherds closed the pit and never again visited it. But they told their discovery to a Spaniard who repeated it to Maryot when he was exploring New Mexico for the United States Geological Survey.

The same shepherds, say Maryot and Baker, say as they go in the present expedition. They are certain the mysterious pit contains the French gold.

"So an it," says Baker.

Iowa Physician Makes

Startling Offer to Catarrh Sufferers

Found Treatment Which Healed His Own Catarrh and Now Offers To Send It Free to Sufferers Anywhere.

DAVENPORT, Iowa.—Dr. W. O. Coffey, Suite 1203, St. James Hotel Bldg., this city, one of the most widely known physicians and surgeons in the central west, announces that he found a treatment which completely healed him of catarrh in the head and nose, deafness and head noises, of many years of suffering. He then gave the treatment to a number of other sufferers and they state that they also were completely healed. The doctor is so proud of his achievement and so confident that his treatment will bring other sufferers the same freedom, that he is offering to send a 10 day supply absolutely free to any reader of this paper who writes him. Dr. Coffey has specialized on eye, ear, nose and throat diseases for more than 35 years and is honored and rewarded by countless thousands. If you suffer from nose bleed or throat catarrh, untimely deafness or head noises, send him your name and address today.—Adv.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach trouble.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested food? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for cod liver oil. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. They do the work without gripping, cramping or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c and 30c.—Adv.

SAY IT IN FIVE MINUTES IS PHONE SLOGAN

Long-winded folks who monopolize telephone "party lines" in the future had better purchase stop watches or move over onto a "toll" district and discuss neighborhood and club affairs at regular intervals.

The New England Telephone company officials are starting a state-wide campaign to eliminate the abuses of both sexes, who continually in spite of gentle admonitions and pleadings, block out a busy "party line" and discuss dress fashions, town news and the Mrs. Miller kind of trivia and quips popular in the "kitchen" club fraternity.

With each and every little bill mailed to Lowell, customers for the February expense charges for use of the "phones," went slips of printed tips regarding the use of party lines more than five minutes at a time by individuals who ought to know better.

No threats accompany the slip suggestion, but in Boston the ancient telephone "hog" have been informed that the long-winded pests who don't keep within the rule as requested, may lose their service.

Nothing radical is intended in the Lowell division along this line. It was this morning, but all telephone operators and many patrons are pretty well inclined to view the telephone corporation's suggestion slips as quite opportune.

Manager G. J. Leathers was absent today because of illness, but some of the local exchange executives interviewed said it was no uncommon thing for "wireless fans" to open a party line, connect up with some "outsider" and after trundling up a radio receiver with a canned concert coming through the earpiece, monopolize the whole line for sometimes half an hour and even longer. The custom appears to be popular. Wireless devotees sometimes imagining that that is what the Bell line is for when the evenings are dull around the parlor.

The new motto, "Say It In Five Minutes" is intended for all users of the always-crowded party lines. Boston, Lowell and everywhere, only no threats have been issued from the local office, as has been done down in Boston.

Has He Found a Cure for Asthma?

Simple Prescription Gives Instant Relief. Makes Breathing Easy

In New England, where Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis and other diseases of the throat and lungs are so prevalent, remarkably successful results are being reported following the use of a new form of treatment known as Oxidase, a physician's prescription.

Oxidase is harmless but powerful combination of curative essential oils concentrated and compressed into a small tablet. On the tongue, it slowly dissolves before going to bed, seems to have the effect of releasing the muscular constriction of the bronchial tubes, opening the air passages and regulating spasmodic lung action. This enables the patient to breathe easily and naturally while lying down, and to get a comfortable night's sleep.

So much interest has been shown that local druggists, including Green's Drug Store, 121 State St., Lowell, Pharmacy has secured a small supply and states that they are authorized to refund the money paid for the first package if in any case this new treatment fails to give relief. Oxidase is pleasant to take, contains no harmful, habit-forming drugs and is not expensive. This makes their test an easy matter.—Adv.

HAD NERVOUS INDIGESTION

COULD NOT SLEEP—LOST WEIGHT ONLY WINCARNIS HELPED HER

"Let anyone who may question the truth of your claims for Wincarnis come to me and I will soon dispel their doubts."

A year ago I had a very bad spell of nervous indigestion and although my doctor did all he could for me, nothing he gave me relieved me of the dreadful attack.

I lost my appetite, I could not sleep, my nerves got worse and I rapidly lost weight.

I had read about your wonderful tonic Wincarnis and decided to give it a trial. Almost immediately my appetite came back and soon I was able to get a refreshing night's sleep. My nerves grew steady, my indigestion disappeared and I began to put on flesh. In fact, I gained 8 pounds while taking Wincarnis."

SEEK SUBSTITUTE FOR COTTON

BERLIN, March 5.—Research work designed to develop a substitute for cotton has been taken up again by German textile scientists. It is hoped that ways and means may be found of making Germany's textile industry independent of foreign markets by the perfection of a new process of "cottonizing" various other fibers.

Before the war, Germany's requirements for raw materials were about $60,000 tons a year, consisting chiefly of cotton, wool, jute, hemp and flax. Twenty thousand tons, or scarcely 10 per cent, were actually produced within the country. Nearly half of Germany's bill to outside countries for raw materials for the textile mills went for cotton alone.

A special bureau of the Emperor William Institute for the furtherance of science has been established in connection with the textile fiber research work, and the professors claim that attempts to "cottonize" some fibers, such as hemp and jute, by mixing them with cotton, have yielded very satisfactory results. The professors contend further that probably a way will be found of utilizing refuse fibers from the fabrication of cotton, hemp and jute, by turning this into high grade yarns by means of the new processes now in the course of development.

While Germany's climate is not suitable for the cultivation of adequate quantities of cotton, since the war the local supply of sheep wool has shown an increase, and special efforts have been made by the government to develop the growth of flax, hemp and jute. Most of the cotton bought now by Germany comes from the United States.

EXTEND LIBRARY SERVICE

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., March 5.—Methods of extending library service to the many millions of persons in this country who are now without it will be one of the principal subjects to come before the annual meeting of the American Library Association here next month, April 23 to 28.

Club women, school superintendents, secretaries of chambers of commerce, representatives of civic clubs, all prominent in their lines of work, have been called to discuss this new work of extension. Chief among these is Alvin M. Owsley, commander of the American Legion. The legion is reporting as especially interested in the work as the ex-servicemen remember the camp libraries maintained by the association during the war and in numerous instances have reported their regret that similar service is not available in their home communities.

NORMA TALMADGE'S Manners

Every marriage engagement sets up a new social institution, a new home. And this is true whether those engaged plan to live in a cottage or a mansion. Therefore, it behooves the engaged couple to build a solid social foundation. In this it is the duty of both their families to co-operate wholeheartedly.

ENGAGEMENTS

1. Immediately after obtaining a young woman's consent to marry him, a man should ask her parents' sanction, making, if asked, a straightforward statement of his financial standing.
2. The next day after the young woman's parents approve the engagement the man's parents, or nearest relatives, should call on the bride-to-be.
3. Announcement can be made at social affairs, by letters or through the newspapers, but should come first from the young woman's family.
4. The young man should consult his fiancée's preference as to the style of the engagement ring; she wears it first in public the day the engagement is announced.
5. Before the wedding the two families should meet each other, first at luncheon or dinner at the groom's home, then at the bride's home.

BRITISH TRADE PROSPECTS BRIGHT

LONDON, March 5.—Sir Montague Barlow, the minister of labor, struck an optimistic note on the prospects of a revival in trade when speaking recently in Birmingham.

"To begin to see a little daylight," he said, "there are indications that we are weathering the storm. Frankly, I do not want the process to be too rapid. If it were I would be afraid that it was merely effervescent. Improvement is going on steadily in a manner which makes me hopeful. No one can tell what the effect of certain political changes on the continent may be, but apart from that it seems that we are climbing the hill steadily and, although the going is hard, we shall safely reach the summit."

The retailers of England also feel hopeful as to the future.

"A state of hope for better things rather than actual fulfillment is virtually the position of trade today," is the way the Retailers' Association sums up the retailers' point of view of the trading outlook. It is added, however, that the optimistic feeling bids fair to be translated into business in the early future.

SCIENTIFIC FACTS ABOUT PERSONAL HYGIENE THAT ALL WOMEN SHOULD KNOW

Every well-informed physician, surgeon or chemist knows that the continual use of poisonous, burning fluids in the personal hygiene of women has become a tremendous source of ill health and unhappiness throughout the United States.

A leading New York gynecologist has recently said: "Improper personal hygiene has become a national menace. Largely the result of ignorance, it is a direct blow at American womanhood. The continued use of caustic fluids for the purpose is harmful to a degree undreamed of by the public at large."

Bichloride of mercury and cresol are the two disinfectants now in general use. Both are poisonous and caustic in character, even when highly diluted with water.

The continued use of such disinfectants is disastrous and produces pathological conditions which I am constantly called upon to treat. It also produces through the impairment and multiplication of normal functions, much unhappiness and distress.

"The time has come for the medical profession as a whole to take aggressive action in an effort to stamp out the needless use of caustic compounds in this tremendously harmful manner."

The foregoing fairly represents the attitude of physicians toward the use of poisonous antiseptics. What have chemists to say on the subject? The following statement by the head of an American biological laboratory with an international reputation answers this question:

"Bichloride of mercury and cresol compounds, when used in sufficient strength to possess any value as germicides, are exceedingly destructive to tissue. Bichloride burns the mucous membrane and if used repeatedly will deaden and toughen the tissues with which it comes in contact. There is always the danger of mercurial poisoning through its use."

"Most phenol and cresol compounds are employed in an effort to reduce the burning and the irritation of these poisons. In spite of this they are corrosive, and caution in their action and the soap ingredients wash away many of the necessary gland secretions. Their continued use results in an area of scar-tissue and dulness and hardening of the membrane."

The above reports are from only two authorities. Ask any physician or any chemist whether or not they agree with these opinions.

There was some excuse in the past for the use of poisonous, burning compounds for antiseptic purposes. Until the discovery of the famous Carrel-Dakin solution during the World War, there was nothing else to take their place. This is no longer true. Zonite is a stabilized form of the Carrel-Dakin solution. It is non-poisonous, non-caustic and non-irritating and may be used freely on the mucous membrane with no harmful effect whatsoever.

Zonite is a colorless liquid that does not stain, destroys odors and leaves no odor of its own. According to the standard Walker-Rideal method for testing antiseptics it has more than twice the germicidal power of pure carbolic acid. Not only is it non-poisonous and non-irritating, it is actually healing and soothing in its action. Authorities unhesitatingly and unqualifiedly recommend it.—Adv.

Believe Allies Will Not Dispute Justice of Claim
—Conference in Progress

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Unofficial reports from Paris to the effect that the claim of the United States to payments, already made to Germany for maintenance of Allied and American troops on the Rhine, have been challenged at the conference now in progress, are discounted in Washington official circles as founded on misinformation.

It was pointed out yesterday that in the correspondence which led to the conference on army costs with Assistant Secretary Warworth of the treasury representing the United States, the justice of the American claim was promptly admitted by the allied governments, which suggested the conference.

The purpose of the Paris discussion, it was added, was specifically to seek ways and means of providing for the refunding to the United States of Rhine army costs in a way best calculated to meet the economic plight of the allied governments. Negotiations to that end are now proceeding and state department officials are advised by Mr. Warworth of what transpires at the conference. While no comment has been forthcoming here as to these negotiations, it was made clear that the general picture of the situation had changed in no way nor had the American claim been challenged.

The amount due the United States for the Rhine army cost is roughly one billion gold marks. How the payment of that sum is to be arranged by the allies is the question to be solved at Paris. It was said, as in ascertaining the claim to a full share in the payment, the state department made it plain that the Washington government was not disposed to be a harsh creditor and was anxious to arrive at an understanding with the allies that would not complicate further their difficult economic problems.

EQUAL TREATMENT FOR JAPANESE IN U. S.

TOKYO, March 8.—At a meeting of Japanese interested in American trade, there being 130 present, a resolution was passed urging the government to endeavor when the American Japanese commercial treaty comes up for revision to secure equal treatment for Japanese in America. A committee was appointed to confer with the government officials. To this committee Mr. Tanaka, vice-minister of foreign affairs explained that the American Japanese commercial treaty of July 1911 was made valid for 12 years but with the stipulation that it should remain in force thereafter unless both or either party notified the other of its intention to revoke or revise it. America has expressed no such desire and Japan has no intention of doing so.

THE MYSTERIOUS MR. CARTER IS A HARD GUESS

HERRIN RIOTS TRIAL

Witness Points to Willis as Man Who Issued Order to
"Kill Them All"

MARION, Ill., March 8.—(By the Associated Press) Hugh Willis, state board member of the Illinois Mine Workers was pointed out from the witness stand at the second Herrin riots trial yesterday as the man who gave an order to "kill them all" after a mob had taken 48 non-union workers from the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Co. last June. The accusation was made by Robert Tracy, a survivor of the riots. At the time of the outbreak, Tracy testified, he was firing a locomotive at the mine and was a union man, being a member of the International Brotherhood of Steam Shovel Workers and Druggists.

"Don't kill these men on the public highway where there are women and children," he quoted Willis as saying. "Take them over into the woods and don't let one get away, kill them all."

The witness also picked out Otis Clark from among the six defendants charged with the murder of Antonino Chalkovich, former soldier, veteran of the Somme and the Argonne, and one of the victims of the tragedy.

Tracy testified that he had seen Clark walk up to C. K. McDowell, employed mine superintendent and another victim of the riot, curse him and beat him over the head with the butt and a pistol. He said Clark told McDowell:

"I'm going to kill you and tear you into pieces for bait to catch fish with, you scab."

Tracy testified that the unarmed prisoners were taken into the woods, after Willis had driven up in an automobile and said to "kill them all."

He said one bullet struck him as he ran but that he escaped by swimming a small lake.

On cross-examination Tracy said that after the firing on the mine had started he got a gun, went to the top of one of the mine buildings and returned the fire.

"What did you shoot at?" he was asked.

"I shot at those who were firing at me."

"You shot to kill?"

"Yes, sir."

John Shaffner, a clerk, in a Herrin hardware store, testified that some of the men had come into the store the morning of the riot and had asked for guns and ammunition, saying: "The local is good for it."

The witness said he refused to give them any guns without an order and that a little later some one called him on the telephone and said:

U. S. NAVY TO SEEK
POLAR CONQUEST

NEW YORK, March 8.—The United States navy purposes to undertake conquest of the North and South Poles by air.

This announcement was made by Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, in a speech broadcast from the Westinghouse radio station atop the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The daring feat, according to the rear admiral, will be undertaken by the ZR-1, a huge dirigible now being completed by the navy department at Lakehurst, N. J. She will go into commission, he told his widely scattered audience, about July 1.

"In going on this year the principal cities of the continent, from across country, a trip around the world, and to the North and South Poles."

The rear admiral describes this airship as the country's and the navy's first rigid dirigible. The hanger in which she is being constructed, he says, is the largest in the world. A ship of similar type is being built for this government in Germany and is to be called the ZR-3.

"These two airships," declared Rear Admiral Moffett, "embrace the most improved factors in design known to aeronautical science, and when in commission will be the forerunners of a large fleet of such airships, which it is hoped can be built and commissioned in the near future."

"For long distance, sustained flights, in carrying large loads, the rigid airship is in a class by itself. Its capacity to hover over a given spot, making for great accuracy in the dropping of bombs and in directing gunfire, establish it as an effective weapon for warfare far removed from the coast and from available bases."

"Filled with helium, we have a tremendous factor in naval warfare and an agency of vital importance to the national defense."

The rear admiral said continued experimentation in naval aviation is necessary, and "we must not only keep abreast of the developments in other navies but we must excel in performance the best effort of any foreign service."

Equipment Heads World

He said: "At present our naval air equipment leads the world, our seaplanes are unsurpassed, our methods of communication are a step in advance of any other service and we are making daily progress."

Part of the rear admiral's talk was devoted to pointing out the strategic advantage held by Great Britain through her possession of Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica and other island possessions.

SEN. HIRAM JOHNSON TO OPEN
ATTACK ON HARDING'S PROPOSAL AT NEW YORK

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Permanent Court of International Justice seems certain to be one of the leading subjects of oratory during the coming summer, with President Harding taking the lead in his intended series of twenty speeches through the country.

Hiram Johnson of California, representing the irreconcilable school of thought, expects to tackle the subject in an address tonight before the Bronx Board of Trade in New York.

The California senator has not yet stated his case against the court for public consumption, though he has exhibited the same signs of animosity privately that he displayed toward the League of Nations. He announced recently that, barring a change of mind or tactics meanwhile, he will open warfare on the court in the New York address.

Ohio republicans are actively backing up the president in keeping the court idea in the foreground, and they drew from Simon D. Fess (R., O.), who transfers from the house to the senate next fall, the declaration that the court would have his full support with the reservations already specified insuring freedom from the League of Nations.

Idea Born in America

Mr. Fess, responding to a letter from W. P. Collier, an Ohio republican committeeman, pointed out that the "idea of a world court for adjustment of international disputes is an American proposal, dating back to the first Hague conference in 1897, revived in 1907 and finally put into effect following the Russian-Japanese war."

"The first case to be referred to the tribunal was the dispute between the United States and Mexico," the Fess letter of reply said, adding:

"But the court, once established, brought the court into international recognition was that between the United States and Germany over the Venezuela dispute, when Germany ordered the seizure of payment of debt due Germany. President Roosevelt regarded the appearance on the Venezuelan coast of German war vessels as a violation of the Monroe Doctrine, and the withdrawal of the war vessels."

"Germany's unsatisfactory answer was the cause of the court's ultimatum to withdraw within forty-eight hours. Germany then agreed to arbitrate and asked Roosevelt to act as arbitrator. The president requested the matter be submitted in regular order to the League of Nations, already set up for the specific purpose of settling such disputes."

"The court is not only an American creation, but it was given vitality by the United States leading in the submission to it of cases of vast importance."

Nations Refused Mediation

Unfortunately the disputants in 1918 would not agree to the urgency of the League of Nations to submit the contention to the Hague court, hence the World War.

"The Versailles Treaty undertook to supplement this court by the International court attached to the League of Nations. Our refusal to ratify the treaty, which, I think, was a very wise decision because it would have been a surrender of our national sovereignty, can not be interpreted as a rejection of the idea of an international court to adjust by judicial process international disputes."

"That, as I have said, is an American idea. The only question that arises is whether adhering to the protocol creating the court involves the United States in any way in European problems. Many persons think that it will, because the court is created by the same authority out of which the league is created."

Danish League is Involved

"If the step would in any way place us in the league I could not support it. But while I have not gone into the details in their entirety so far as I have studied it, the adherence will in no wise commit us to the European League of Nations."

"I think, as against the proposal as a means to adjust international disputes far more preferable than to resort to war. If, as I believe, with the information now at hand, the recommendation of the president is not reaffirmed by the League of Nations, I shall urge its acceptance."

"It goes without saying that acceptance must be upon reservation that we remain as we are now—entirely free from European involvement. On such basis I can only strongly commend favorable consideration of the proposal."

WASHINGTON, March 8.—That government operation of many railroad lines will become necessary unless transportation is made more profitable, was the opinion expressed by Senator Cummings (R., Ia.), chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee. He believes remedial legislation will be one of the leading features of the next congress.

It is the intention of Senator Cummings to convene his committee here in May and June and take up the problem of pooling equipment facilities. A series of hearings will be held to ascertain sentiment on that point. The opinions developed will be utilized in formulating a program for next winter.

The chief point to be taken up will be the pooling of freight cars. This has been strongly recommended by President Harding. Shortly before the adjournment of congress the president sought to have action taken prior to March 4. He could not prevail on the House and inquired if they would support such a proposition. He received an affirmative response.

It later developed that railroad legislation when taken up could not be limited to the pooling of freight car shortage. Every other feature of the transportation bill would be brought into the discussion. The idea of early action was abandoned.

Because of the car shortage and for other reasons, that may be remedied, Senator Cummings said, many rail lines are left without a business sufficient-

Ends Stubborn Coughs in a Hurry

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will soon find the immediate relief in a single dose. Or you can take but a moment to prepare, and really there is nothing better for coughs. Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. It keeps perfectly, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough syrups, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and the cough disappear altogether. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or bronchitis cough, and it is also splendid for hoarseness, cough, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Prove special laxative properties of
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin by test

SCIENTIFIC test has now proven what Dr. Caldwell's Monticello asserted many years ago, that constipation will slow you up fully 25 per cent. The test was made by Dr. Donaldson of Loma Linda upon four men in the prime of life who deliberately went without a bowel movement for four days. Within 48 hours the men had costed—tongue and foul breath, cankers in the mouth, no appetite, restless sleep, indigestion, headache, depression, nervousness, cramps. The blood pressure was up 28 per cent. It is just this that Dr. Caldwell has preached to his patients in private and to the public through the printed word ever since he began the practice of his specialty, diseases of the stomach and bowels, back in 1875.

After observing for years the satisfactory effect of his prescription for constipation, he placed it in drug stores in 1892, a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, now known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. That was 30 years ago, and today over 10 million bottles are bought annually, the largest selling family laxative in the world. You will find it in any drug store you enter, a generous-size bottle costing you less than a cent a dose.

Every member of the family from the infants to the grand-children can use it with safety. It is gentle and mild. The formula is on the package. Mrs. Roy Cook of Bellefontaine, O., has been giving it to her 5-month-old baby, who now weighs 19 pounds; and Mr. J. B. Dawson of Brinson, Ga., declares it the best laxative his family has ever found. Try a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for constipation or any of its symptoms. The results will delight you. And the cost is only one cent a dose.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of people are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use it with safety?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. H. Caldwell, 875 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

Floggers of Two 17-Year-
Old Youths at Tulsa, Okla.,
Sought by Police

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., March 8.—City and county authorities today continued their investigation of the abduction, robbing and beating of Dr. D. C. Goldberg, despite the physician's reluctance to press the case. Dr. Goldberg staggered into police headquarters yesterday morning after he had been seized as he entered his garage at his home at midnight. The doctor said he felt certain the men who attacked him sought narcotics. He said they took the small amount of drugs he carried, as well as $50. At Tulsa, Okla., the floggers of two 17-year-old youths who were seized last night, taken to a grove and flogged, were sought by officers. The youths were taken back to Tulsa and dumped out near their homes.

AGIRAKIS IS FOUND GUILTY OF LARCENY

A dispute over a legal title to tenement property at 120 Suffolk street led to the arraignment in the district court this morning of John Agirakis on a charge of larceny. It developed in the course of testimony that Agirakis was the original owner of the property, valued at $3000, and carrying a mortgage of $1500. The building was later sold to J. Lambros, and Attorney James E. O'Donnell appointed receiver for the receiver. According to the testimony, Agirakis is alleged to have continued collecting rents on the property and paying the same to the new owner. On Feb. 1, said Attorney J. O'Donnell, Agirakis collected, through his wife, $92 in rents. The total amount of rent in the building, he said, was $108. Out of the money collected, it was argued, Agirakis paid a water bill of $24 to the city, and when called to the office of Attorney O'Donnell to make the usual settlement, he refused to do so. He had no money. On further questioning, he told several persons that his wife had the money, and again that his son had it. He also said that he sent the money by his little girl, but Agirakis said he saw neither his wife nor his daughter.

ATTENDS CEREMONY IN MONTREAL

Tancredi L. Blanchette, secretary-treasurer of Branch St. Andrew's C.E., left last evening for Montreal, Que., to attend the ceremony of conferring the title and insignia of Knight of the Order of St. Gregory the Great upon Rodolphe Bedard, president general of the Archange Canadiens-Francais of Montreal. The ceremony, which took place today, was conducted at the Monument National by the papal delegate in the presence of hundreds of members of the Archange from this country and Canada. This honor was conferred upon Mr. Bedard by the pope as a mark of appreciation for services rendered the church. Mr. Blanchette is the only Lowell delegate attending the ceremony and he went as official representative of all Lowell branches of the society.

BIG CUT IN BRITISH NAVAL ESTIMATES

LONDON, March 8.—In explanation of the navy estimates for 1923-24, which show a reduction of more than $600,000,000, it is stated that the figures were prepared on the assumption that the Washington naval treaty will be ratified by all the signatory powers. The gross estimates are given as $1,401,125,000, as compared with $1,463,637,000 for the previous year. The net figure is $550,000,000, as compared with the previous estimate of $1,558,750,000.

An explanatory white paper issued by Lieut. Col. Amery, first lord of the admiralty, says England does not propose to lay down any new ships in 1923 or 1924, but that a small sum has been appropriated for preparatory work on submarine construction which the admiralty hopes to begin next year.

to the building. He said he noticed no gas odor, but added the smoke was so heavy that he could not see out of the building. Mr. Howard inquired at length relative to another door leading from this alleyway into the boiler room and Chief Crowley said this door was open. He said as far as he knew there were no passageways between the boiler room and the main cellar beneath the store.

Mr. Howard asked witness if he would be surprised to learn there are two doors from the boiler room that led to the store basement and he replied he would be surprised.

Capt. Edward J. Birmingham, of the fire department testified he was off duty on the night of the fire and was standing in front of Green's drug store when it was discovered. He ran to the rear of the building, secured an ax and broke in the door in the alleyway. He did not enter the building at any time during the fire.

Was Short of Gas
The next witness called was John Dagoumas, who conducts a shoe shine shop at Bridge and Paige streets. He said he used gas in connection with his business of hat cleaning. On the night of the fire, at about 7:40 o'clock, he said a man came into the store and asked to have a hat cleaned. He turned on the gas under the boiler to give steam, but there was not enough gas available to allow him to operate his cleaning apparatus. He testified further that gas lights in the store were very dim and were not burning strong enough to give adequate light. He said he was unable to use either the lights or boiler after the time of the fire.

Cross-examined by Mr. Howard, the witness said the gas did not go out, but was very low. He said his shop was not badly damaged as result of the fire and he did not carry any fire insurance.

William Pappas, who occupied the store with Dagoumas, was the next witness. He said gas lights in the store were very low at 7:40 o'clock on the night of the fire. Before that time the lights were bright. When the gas lights became dim, electric lights were turned on.

Chief Edward J. Saunders was recalled by the district attorney. He said when he reached the fire at No. 12 Bridge street, smoke was coming from basement windows in the front of the building.

He testified that he went into the basement of the store as soon as it was possible and smelled gas. He said one gas meter was investigated after the fire and it was found that two pieces of pipe were disconnected. The pipe in question was produced and shown to the jury and marked as exhibits. One was a part of the pipe which gas service to the building and the other was part of the boiler to the meter. The chief estimated the two pieces were more than an inch apart.

Replying to questions by the district attorney, Chief Saunders said the meter had not been burned or the paint scratched.

Cross-examined by Mr. Howard, the chief said the nearest fire apparently was in the front part of the basement.

"Is that where this meter in question was located?" asked Mr. Howard. "Yes," replied the chief.

Shoe Shine Parlor Gas

The next witness called was Lawrence J. Farley, foreman for the Lowell Gas Light Co. He testified that the shoe shine parlor was supplied with gas from a meter situated in the front of the Depot Cash Market basement. Capt. David Patrie of the police department, was recalled to the witness stand.

He said he visited the store at No. 12 Bridge street the morning after the fire and it was his opinion that the fire had burned in the center and rear of the cellar.

"There were no signs of heavy fire in the front of the basement," he stated.

Testifying relative to the condition of pipes near a gas meter located at the front of the cellar, Capt. Patrie said the pieces of pipe submitted as exhibits were disconnected and were approximately 2 inches apart.

Mr. Farley was recalled and was asked by Mr. Reading if there was any other meter in the basement of the store which supplied gas to the shoe shine parlor and he replied there was not.

Patrolman Thomas H. Maroney was recalled, and said the door leading from the alley in the rear of the Dryden building to the boiler room always is open to allow the fireman to enter.

Anel H. Campbell Testified
Anel H. Campbell, real estate and insurance man, testified to the purchase by the Bogdonoff brothers, through his office, in 1922, of the building at 370-372 Bridge street for $18,000. He told also of placing and carrying insurance in the total amount of $12,000, of which $6000 was on stock and $6000 on fixtures. Insurance to the amount of $12,000 also was carried by him on the stock and fixtures at 12 Bridge street and a 3-year policy for $10,000 on the building at 370-372 Bridge street and one for $5000 on the building, 5-11 West Third street.

One policy for $6000 was due to expire on Dec. 31, 1922, and when it was renewed it was for the amount of $3000, for the reason that it was planned to transfer some of the stock at 370-372 Bridge street to 12 Bridge street.

Questioned by Mr. Howard, Mr. Campbell said he considered a fair market value of the Centralville property was $21,000 or $23,000. He substantiated this contention by declaring he knew a person willing to pay $23,000 for the property in November.

"Do you, Mr. Campbell, feel that the amount of insurance carried was in any way excessive?" asked Mr. Howard.

"No, sir; I do not," replied the witness.

Mr. Howard asked whether the Virginia Fire & Marine Insurance Co., which has written all policies, has cancelled any since the time of the fire, and Mr. Campbell replied it had not.

AFTERNOON SESSION

On redirect examination Mr. Campbell said he had conferred with Philip Bogdonoff relative to a probable transfer of some goods from 370 Bridge to 12 Bridge street and that he had suggested, when the policy, which would expire on Dec. 31, should be renewed, it should be reduced from $23,000 to $9000. He added, however, that a larger policy would be written for the stock at 12 Bridge street after any such transfer.

The district attorney questioned Mr. Campbell at length regarding his testimony at the first inquest on Nov. 17 and after reading certain parts of his evidence to him, Mr. Reading asked if it were true. Mr. Campbell said he could not reconcile several of the statements contained in the records with his memory of what he said at that time.

Mr. Reading called attention to the statement in the inquest record, which said that Mr. Campbell, in talking with one of the Bogdonoff brothers, had told him because he felt there was too much insurance being carried on the merchandise at 370 Bridge street and that he would not renew it in its original amount when it expired.

Mr. Campbell replied that if he made that statement at the inquest it was not correct as there never had been any such agreement.

"The only agreement was," said Mr. Campbell, "that the size of the policy should be reduced because of probable transfer of stock from 370 to 12 Bridge street."

The district attorney also read from records of a conference between Mr. Campbell, Mr. Shawway and Mr. Hushney in the office of the district attorney at East Cambridge and inquired as to its authenticity, which Mr. Campbell said was correct.

The next witness was Ralph G. Hinchley, assistant general agent of the Vuzium Fire & Marine Insurance Co.

He testified to coming to Lowell after the fire in an attempt to adjust the loss at the Merrimack Square store. He said he was presented a statement of loss by Philip Bogdonoff, but, he said, it did not correspond with a statement in his possession made by the Underwriters, Salvage Co.

He testified that he was unable to reconcile the report of the salvage company, showing $4000 worth of stock salvage, and the statement of the Depot Cash Market showing a stock worth $7000.

He testified further that Mr. Bogdonoff said he believed the loss should be settled upon the figures on his statement.

R. R. Freight Traffic Breaks All Records

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Freight traffic on railroads, according to reports compiled by the car service of the American Railway association is breaking all previous records for this season of the year. During the week ending February 24, 830,223 cars were loaded with revenue freight, or 101,298 cars more than the total loaded during the same week last year. This was also 12,445 cars in excess of the number loaded during the previous week of this year.

New Earrings Disfigure Ears of Women

LONDON, March 8.—The heavy gypsy earrings of the latest fashion are stretching into triangular shapes the ears of women who wear them and permanently disfigure them, say London doctors. Some of the new earrings weigh as much as four ounces. Beauty doctors declare that they have an increasing number of clients who come to them to have their ears massaged so as to bring them back to their original shape. This is about the only method which doctors know to restore the ear to its natural shape without an operation.

11 Teams in Six-Day Race

NEW YORK, March 8.—After a night of hard riding, during which the Kaiser-Baton team was withdrawn, 11 teams were bunched for the leadership at the end of the 80th hour of the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden at 8 a. m. today. They had traveled 1147 miles and 9 laps. The Koehler-Stockhold team was one lap behind the field and the Fitzsimmons-Spencer and Kopsky-Osteritter aggregations were three laps behind.

$20,000 Fire Loss at Kennebunk, Maine

KENNEBUNK, Me., March 8.—Fire from an undetermined cause destroyed the Roberts block in the business section early this morning, causing a loss of $20,000. Among the five tenants burned out was Judge Harold H. Bourne, who lost his law library which had been handed down from three generations of the Bourne family. Deep snow from yesterday's storm made quick response by the fire department difficult.

Reject Treaty But Continue Negotiations

LONDON, March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Prime Minister Bonar Law stated in the house of commons today that an official statement from the Turkish authorities at Angora, relayed by the British high commissioner at Constantinople, was to the effect that the draft treaty presented at Dausanne was considered unsuitable, but that the Grand National Assembly, by a great majority, had given authority to continue the peace negotiations.

Mile. Lenglen Defeats Miss Cadle

MONTONE, March 8.—(By the Associated Press)—Mile. Suzanne Lenglen defeated Miss Cadle of England in the women's singles of the Montone lawn tennis tournament today, 6-0, 6-1. Miss Cadle is the player who on Tuesday eliminated Mrs. Molla Bjornstedt Mallory, the American champion. Mrs. Mallory and Miss Blake, the only all-American pair in the women's doubles, defeated Lady Deane and Mrs. Sanderson of England, 6-2, 6-1, reaching the fourth round. This was the first winning match in which Mrs. Mallory has figured at Montone.

Three Missing After Fire; Ruins Searched

PITTSBURGH, March 8.—Police and firemen today were searching the ruins of the Shelton hall building for the bodies of three persons reported missing after the fire last night in which one man was known to have been killed. The fire was brought under control early this morning, after it had burned for five hours. The damage was estimated at $150,000.

Collect $300,000,000 in Back Taxes

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Collection of back taxes by the treasury today passed the $300,000,000 mark. Any further collections will help to reduce present estimates of the budget deficit. Officials believe the average monthly receipts from back taxes during the remainder of the fiscal year may exceed $30,000,000.

Shipping Clerk in Boston Store Arrested

BOSTON, March 8.—Mitchell Shulkin, shipping clerk in a woman's apparel store here, was arrested today charged with larceny of $2000 from the store. The police said he had confessed to having taken money on one occasion to the amount of more than $200. He pleaded not guilty in the municipal court and was held in $2000 for a hearing on March 22.

WHOOPING COUGH CURED BY X-RAY

BOSTON, March 8.—Belief that the X-ray may prove of more value in the treatment of whooping cough than any other form of treatment, is expressed by Dr. Henry I. Bowditch, and Dr. Ralph D. Leonard in a preliminary report on their experiments to find a cure for the complaint that has baffled all treatment.

Their report, published in the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal, said that definite improvement was noted in most of the 26 cases of active pertussis (whooping cough) treated with the X-ray. The subjects of which ranged in age from 3 months to 40 years with disease stages of from one to 10 weeks. The physicians added that they could not give any rational explanation of the action through which the X-ray appeared to produce the beneficial results.

WAR CLOUDS HANG OVER RUHR

Writer Says France Would
Not Hesitate to Declare
War if Forces Are Attacked

Gloomy Pictures With Warn-
ings of Impending Crisis
Painted by Writers

Unemployment is Increasing and Political Situation is Dangerous

LONDON, March 8.—(By the Associated Press) Gloomy pictures of the situation in the Ruhr with warnings of an impending crisis, are painted today by some of the London newspaper correspondents.

A Duesseidort dispatch to the Telegraph says that unemployment is increasing and that the political situation is dangerous. Economic conditions are described as disastrous, asserting that 25,000 persons are without work in Duesseidort alone and that the unemployment wages are insufficient. The workmen are noticeably depressed, the correspondent adds, and rumors are current that they are beginning to doubt the issue of the struggle.

The French, this dispatch asserts, are preparing to deal with the food problem which will undoubtedly arise with the increase of unemployment. The soup kitchens, boycotted at first, are now popular.

The Cologne correspondent of the Daily Express reports that conditions in Essen and Bochum are pitiful and that the death rate has risen 30 per cent.

The French military authorities have given definite orders to admit all foodstuffs to the cities, but some of the trucks never arrived and part of the shipment is stolen.

"Education, the correspondent adds, is at a standstill, for the French have occupied the schools. The passing of each day finds public feeling more embittered.

The impression that "the cauldron in the Ruhr may boil over at any time with fearful results in bloodshed," is expressed by the Cologne correspondent of the Westminster Gazette. He continues:

"It is the opinion of those best able to judge that unless an agreement is soon reached, it can only be a matter of time before another war breaks out. It is expressed by the Cologne correspondent of the Westminster Gazette. He continues:

"The correspondent adds that it is only fair to point out that many reports of this character may be traced to German sources. He asserts that the difficulties of obtaining reliable information because of the severance of communications is being constantly emphasized.

In this connection the Cologne correspondent of the Express says: "It is I am told to view some of the stories in circulation and that rumors much more serious than the facts warrant are rife.

French Re-enter Dortmund
BERLIN, March 8.—(By the Associated Press) The French re-entered Dortmund today, surrounding a schoolhouse and disarming the police who were quartered there. The force was removed to an unknown destination. The French allowed the national men to take their belongings with them, while the officers were permitted to retain their swords. The town hall was later occupied. Units from Dortmund and Herten were used in the operation.

PRETTY PARTY AT GIRLS' CITY CLUB

The pupils of Miss Charlotte M. Green's dancing classes held a very attractive costume party in the Girls' City club yesterday afternoon. The costumes were very pretty and represented characters both old and new of many countries.

Miss Janet Lambert and Master Robert Donovan were awarded prizes for the most pleasing costumes by Miss Green, and in return Miss Green was presented an armful of roses by her pupils.

The pupils and the costumes in which they appeared were as follows: "Rainbow Girl," Helen Bagshaw; "Pierrot," Janet Lambert; "Helen O'Brien and Alice Mulcahy," "Chinaman," Gertrude Henderson and Daniel O'Brien; "Queen of Fairies," Ellen Devins; "Midnight Fairy," Louise Dunn; "Pirate," Alice Kilmartin; "Fairy," Helen Mulcahy; "Catherine Casey," "Buttercup," Mary Droney; "Palm Beach Lady," Jack Flood; "George Washington," Richard Flood; "Soldier," Harris Meyers and Jack Cogger; "Spaniard," Robert Donovan; "Colonists," Joseph Reynolds and Herbert Hanna.

John J. Walsh and Mrs. James A. Flood were the matrons, and the music for dancing was furnished by Miss M. Estelle Green, pianist, assisted by Charles Flood, violinist.

BROKE THROUGH ICE

Nothing Definite Known as
to Fate of Deer Seen in
River

Lowell's annual snow-bound deer appeared suddenly once more in the vicinity of human habitats in the Belle Grove section of Draught late yesterday afternoon, trotted swiftly along the Merrimack river banks about half a mile below McManis' nurseries on the Draught side of the stream and finally turned and started to cross a thin ice bridge. A moment later the deer was floundering in the stream. Swimming about and snatching ice ahead of him, the animal appeared to be getting along all right, at first, but a little later, according to eye-witnesses, appeared to become somewhat exhausted.

Two men riding in a Lowell-bound car in the shore highway saw the deer attempting to reach the opposite shore, and reported the matter a little later to the Lowell Humane society.

Game Warden Crosby and Assistant Agent Baker of the society hustled to Draught in the latter's car and tried to locate the deer. After floundering about in deep snowdrifts for an hour or more and inspecting the deer's swimming hole, they decided that the animal had probably reached the opposite shore and made its way over the fields to a safer haven.

a committee in conference. If the committee suggests any changes in the recommendations of departmental propositions, which are sound, in my opinion, I am willing to entertain them. While I can insist that my original budget figures must stand, I do not wish to be arbitrary in the matter. We will enter the conference in a spirit of helpful co-operation.

"It is to be expected that department heads will protest more or less if their appropriations are not in keeping with their estimates, but if we are to be guided by their estimates, we might as well throw retrenchment to the winds. I do not look to see much disagreement over the figures after our conference tonight."

The meeting will be presided over by Councilor Gallagher, who is chairman of the committee, and it is scheduled to open at 8 o'clock.

ACCIDENT BOARD HEARING

There will be a hearing under the workman's compensation act in the councilman's chamber at city hall tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in the case of Lawrence Sears vs. J. J. Harris Co. Frank J. Donahue of the industrial accident board will preside. On Wednesday, March 14, Joseph A.

TORTURE MACHINE WAS FARM TRACTOR

BASTROP, La., March 8.—(By the Associated Press) Persons who have examined on the list of witnesses the pathologist in condition of the mutilated bodies of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard, found in Lake "La Fourche" last December 22, and who are familiar with mechanical devices, declare they believe they have identified the so-called "torture machine" as one of the many road or farm tractors in use throughout the parish.

Ten Witnesses Called

BASTROP, La., Mar. 8.—Ten names appeared on the list of witnesses summoned to appear today before the Morhouse parish grand jury investigating masked band operations in the parish last summer.

All of them testified at the open hearing in January regarding the kidnapping of Watt Daniel and T. F. Richard.

J. L. Daniel, father of Watt, who was kidnapped with his son, but released, was examined yesterday. Addie May Hamilton, and her mother, who were threatened by a masked band with a coat of tar and feathers. If the girl did not leave Mr. Rouse, also, were before the investigators.

Public Service Board
The public service board is scheduled to meet late this afternoon to outline its paving program for the year and also to consider paying and bridge loans. One matter to be discussed is an additional tax for the payment of about $2000 to the Engineering Service and Construction company, an award made by the board recently for work performed by the company on the reconstruction of the Central bridge. In the bridge loan also will be included a sufficiently large amount to cover the cost of reconstructing a low of the city's bridges, work that is being planned for the present year. Monthly bills will also be approved at the meeting.

TALKED ON CONDITIONS IN ITALY AND IRELAND

Chaotic conditions in some sections of Ireland—swashbuckling in Italy—Mussolini and the fascists and communism, too, with its many ramifications and designs—were some of the topics covered in an interesting address by Mrs. Claude V. Gilson in another informing current events' lecture at All Souls' parish house, yesterday. Her subject was "The Italian Situation and the Irish Situation."

The speaker expressed the belief that the popularity of Mussolini is on the wane as a government leader. She also declared the "warring international policy" of Italy in detail. As for Ireland, the speaker declared that "continuity" played an almost too great a part in the conduct of affairs there and believed the schools there should be separated from the church. She said the clergy-men of different denominations have charge of the schools and that the pay of teachers is 10 shillings a week, but she possibly meant ten shillings a day.

LOWELL GAEIC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

At a well attended meeting of the Lowell Gaelic club last evening, considerable business was transacted, including an election of officers for the coming year, the following were elected: President, Michael J. O'Dea; Vice president, Patrick Cunningham; recording secretary, John F. Murphy; financial secretary, John J. Leonard; treasurer, William W. Ryan; guard, John J. Cummins; sergeant-at-arms, John J. Costello; board of trustees, Peter Donoghue, Michael E. Quinn and Thomas O'Rourke.

A rising vote of thanks was extended by the members to the retiring president, William Ryan, who in turn thanked the members for the fine cooperation shown him during the past year.

President-elect O'Dea thanked the members for the honor shown him, and outlined his program for the coming year. He asked the co-operation of all to make the organization a live one. The club voted to celebrate St. Patrick's day by holding a ladies' night and social on the evening of the 17th.

SUBMITS FRENCH NAVAL PROGRAM

Conceived Within the Framework of the Washington Accords, Says Raiberti

Hence Government Gives

Proof of Intention to Obtain Ratification.

PARIS, March 8.—(By the Associated Press) The government's naval program was introduced in the chamber of deputies today by Minister of Marine Raiberti with the remark that the program "was conceived within the framework of the Washington accords, so that the government cannot give stronger proof of its intention to obtain their ratification."

"The program" continued the minister, "does not fix the number of units, as that must vary with the needs of the national defense, but it fixes the tonnage for each category."

"For battleships it provides for 175,000 tons, but the preamble explains that the government has no intention of constructing to that extent at present for these reasons:

"Firstly, the type of capital ship has not been settled upon; secondly, the fleet must be in accord with our financial means, and France has not the means to construct a fleet of capital ships and a fleet of light units. "We must choose, and we have chosen the latter."

The minister of marine reiterated that the government intended that the Washington treaties should be ratified and was only awaiting the recovery of Deputy Guernier, reporter for the foreign affairs commission, whose illness has been delaying the reports on the treaties.

Deputy Locquin said the slowness of the ratification process had furnished arguments for Americans in accusing France of imperialism.

"America's failure to ratify the peace treaty was also a great vexation for France," interjected Deputy Balanant.
